Notwithstanding this memorial, the humiliating fact remains, that not one of these demands was heeded. Yet the imperious dictation of the liquor traffic seems to be regarded.

Bishop Harris.—Thos. Lee read resolutions in recognition of the death of Bishop Harris. They were adopted by a rising vote, as follows:

The Cincinnati Conference records its deep sorrow at the decease of Bishop Wm. L. Harris.

We can not but recognize the sorrowful fact that a strong leader of our Methodist hosts has fallen at the front of the ranks.

For fifty years he has been a Methodist minister, and for a large part of that time he has occupied a conspicuous position in our common Methodism.

Born in Ohio in 1817, his early education was received and his ministry commenced in this State, which has always cherished the highest regard for her beloved and loyal son.

It is not the purpose of this minute to recite the interesting history of Bishop Harris, or to present any analytical and elaborate estimate of his character and work; we simply desire to record our appreciation of this honored man and minister, and of the great and permanent work which he has done.

As pastor, teacher, assistant missionary secretary, and bishop, he has rendered the Church which honored him distinguished service.

His wisdom in its important councils was always recognized, and his influence in shaping its policy was always potent.

His knowledge of Methodist law and usage, and of the whole polity of the Church was probably unsurpassed by that of any other man in Methodism.

The entire Church will greatly miss this distinguished man of God, and will gratefully cherish his memory for generations to come.

We hereby request that this minute be placed upon the records of the Conference, and that a copy of the same be forwarded by the Secretary to the family of the deceased.

Reports of Committees.

AMERICAN BIBLE SOCIETY.

IN estimating the various appliances by which the world is to be won for Christ, the great central power, the truth itself, must not be forgotten. The progress of society keeps even pace with the spread of Christian knowledge. It is, therefore, highly important that the Word of God be disseminated among all peoples.

Upon the Bible rest the pillars of the governments of the world, and, although it be true that the living ministry of the Word is needed for effective evangelization, nevertheless the Bible is the abiding light in the homes of humanity to guide to nobler attainments. Every effort to bring the Gospel within the reach of the heathen and those in destitute parts of our own land should be most cordially commended. No institution in our country is doing more to secure this object than the American Bible Society. It supplies both the foreign and home fields. Its running expenses are reduced to the minimum; its plan for spreading the Word is most effective; while its noble history elicits our highest admiration, and its generous object should gain for it the most cordial support.

We most heartily indorse the aim and work of the American Bible Society, and would recommend it most fully to the support of the preachers and people of the Cincinnati Conference.

Respectfully submitted.

CHURCH EXTENSION.

EXPERIENCE has taught all of our thoughtful Church workers that there is a great need of organized effort to help in the work of building new churches in the rapidly growing towns of the far West, and in many portions of the "New South." We feel that there was never a greater field opened up before our Church, into which we may enter, with great profit to the cause of Christ. A few hundred dollars now, in many of our Western and Southern towns, and even rural districts, will accomplish as much, if not more, than as many thousand in ten years from this time. We believe it to be wise to give a helping hand in the newly settled and needy portions of our country, to secure a church home for our people.

Vice, in its many forms, quickly springs up in these newly settled communities and almost bids defiance to Gospel work. We believe that there is no better way of blessing these portions of our country than to preoccupy them with churches, and each church put under an active, godly minister of the Gospel.

The work that has been accomplished in the past through our Church Extension Society fully justifies us in pressing its claims on the attention and consciences of our people. We feel that without this form of Church work the State of Kansas would not be rejoicing in its great freedom from the liquor-traffic. If we are rightly informed, every Methodist Church in all of that State was on the right side of this question. And the great majority of those Churches that helped so grandly in this form of work were planted by the Church Extension Society.

The time has not come for us to relax our efforts in this direction. The field is yet a wide field. The cry for help is yet a loud cry. The great tide of humanity is rapidly moving westward in our land. In many instances this portion of our people are not able to build up churches in time to beat back the tide of iniquity that soon rolls in. In other instances these new communities lack a leader to undertake this work, or they may lack the stimulus of a helping hand, such as is freely offered by the Church Extension Society. The past work of this Society proves its worth to the cause of Christ, and to the interests of community at large.

There are hundreds of churches in our land to-day, filled with interested hearers and happy worshipers, that would have had no existence had the helpful hand of this organization not been given.

This Society promises greater usefulness in the future if our people will but give of their substance for its use. And we are confident that this form of church work will continue to have a warm place in the hearts of our people if we as their pastors will keep the facts before them.

DANIEL CURRY, D. D.

DR. CURRY was an able, faithful, and fearless minister of the Gospel of Jesus Christ. He was a man of broad and accurate information, and thoroughly awake to the great questions of his time. As an analytical and logical thinker he had few superiors; while as a debater, and especially in the domain of ecclesiastical law and polity, he stood easily in the front rank. Earnest and fearless as he was in the advocacy of his ideas, he was of a generous and kindly spirit. In the counsels of the Church he was an adviser whose wisdom was generally recognized, while his sincerity was never questioned. No great interest of the Church escaped his careful attention. As a writer he was always able and often brilliant, and has left literary work which will take permanent rank among the English classics. He held a place in the heart of the Church which few men have ever secured, and his death causes universal grief. We are grateful that he lived so long, so well, and so usefully, and we would not murmur against either the wisdom or the goodness of God in removing him from among us; but this Conference shares the sorrow of the whole Church that this truly great and good man has been taken from us. Take him all in all, we shall not soon look upon his like again. It is said that death slays the kings, but this does not comfort us when the kings are truly kingly. This Conference mourns the death of Dr. Curry.

DIVORCE.*

YOUR Committee on Divorce respectfully report: The importance of this subject can not be overestimated. To individual purity and happiness, to social well-being, to the State, and to the success of Christianity, the home and the family, as founded on God's law of marriage, are of vital significance. The divine law of marriage, as God gives it in the Bible, is held in less reverence and is obeyed less strictly than it was fifty years ago. Divorce is widely and growingly prevalent. Much more easily now than in that earlier time can a divorce be obtained. In nearly all the States of this Union, divorce is granted for far too many causes and for inadequate reasons. Resulting from this, sad and multiplying social and domestic wrecks strew the seas. While available statistics showing how widely divorce obtains, and how fast it increases, are lacking, yet criteria exist which will lead to correct general conclusions. These let us briefly consider.

* The writer of this report acknowledges indebtedness to the excellent work of Theodore D. Woolsey on "Divorce and Divorce Legislation," Charles Scribner & Son, New York, for some of the statistical and other facts presented.

The marriage of one man with one woman, not to be disunited while both are living, except for adultery, is the true law of marriage. On the reverent esteem in which this law is held, on its being scrupulously guarded and strictly maintained, depend the highest interests of the State, the surest advancement of the Church, and the truest welfare of man. History enforces this view. The Jews held to the law of marriage, as here defined. Divorces were rare. Save for adultery they were never allowed. After four thousand years of separate race, or national existence, they still remain a virtuous, vigorous people. Longer than any others have they maintained national distinctness, yet no others are physically or intellectually their superiors. Very few equal them. In the palmiest days of Grecian art and luxury, divorce, lust, and impurity prevailed. The end soon came. Greece early descended into the grave of nations.

Rome was one of the mightiest of States. Yet Rome was soon overthrown. Why? Its standard of public morals as to the sexes was too low. The brief limits of a conference report forbid extended illustration and statistics, even on the most important of subjects. I give a few.

1. Divorce is more prevalent in the United States than in any other civilized nation in the world.

2. Divorce is granted for more causes in the United States than in any Christian State in the world.

3. The legislation on the marriage relation and divorce has had more frequent and rapid changes in this country than that of any other civilized state.

4. Changes in the marriage law, relaxing its bonds, and rendering divorce easy, naturally increase divorces.

5. To multiply divorces and the causes for them tends to increase crimes against chastity and to induce general depravation of morals.

These several propositions find support in the following statistics. The ratio of divorces to marriages is far less in Europe than here.

France—1840 to 1849, one divorce to 372 marriages; 1850 to 1859, one divorce to 240 marriages; 1860 to 1869, one divorce to 153 marriages; 1869 to 1874, one divorce to 153 marriages. This shows a great deterioration in thirty-five years; yet, even then, France is our superior as to divorces.

In Massachusetts—1860 to 1878, there was one divorce to 36 marriages, more than four times as many as in France. The smallest ratio was in 1860, one divorce to 51 marriages, three times as great as in France.

Saxony—1836 to 1840, nineteen divorces to 100,000 people. From 1862 to 1868, 2,945 divorces, 491 per year in a population of 2,500,000. Ratio of divorce that term, one divorce to 850 persons.

Connecticut—1860 to 1880, one divorce to 11 marriages. From 1862 to 1868, there were 2,400 divorces, or 400 per annum, in a population of less than 500,000, showing that divorces in Connecticut were for the same years, relatively to population, four times as many as in Saxony, or one divorce to each 208 inhabitants in Connecticut.

Belgium—One divorce to 1,092 marriages.

Berlin—1838, 57 divorces to 100,000 people.

Frankfort and two other judicial districts—34 divorces to 100,000 people.

England—1867 to 1878, one divorce to 1,681 marriages.

Compare with these figures the following in the United States.

Rhode Island—1873-1879, one divorce to about 10 marriages.

Vermont—1860-1878, one divorce to about 18 marriages.

New Hampshire—One divorce to about 10 marriages.

The ratio in Maine is greater than in New Hampshire.

Ohio—1865-1874, one divorce to less than 27 marriages.

Chicago—1865-1874, one divorce to 606 people.

St. Louis—1870, one divorce to 700 people.

San Francisco—one divorce to 702 people.

Changes in legislation relaxing marriage laws, and multiplying the reasons for divorce, are recent. Within fifty years, drunkenness, cruelty, and desertion of home were made, in some of the States, legal grounds for obtaining divorce. In other States, this change has occurred within thirty, and even within twenty years. Fifty years ago the grounds for divorce were limited to two or three. They are now increased, in some States, to six, eight, ten, or even to fourteen. The present average of causes for divorce in forty-five States and Territories, is six and a half.

Legislation, in this country, on marriage and divorce is lax. It is becoming more so. Among the allowed grounds for divorce, are desertion, cruelty, insanity, violent temper, incompatibility. Take a few specimens of this loose legislation: In 1870, Maine enacted a law that any justice of the supreme court might decree a divorce, "whenever in the exercise of a sound discretion, he deems it reasonable and proper, conducive to domestic harmony, and consistent with the peace and morality of society." In North Carolina the law is: "The court may grant a divorce, if any other just cause of divorce exists." In Indiana: "Circuit courts may decree divorces for any other cause for which they shall deem it proper that a divorce shall be granted." Connecticut: Courts may decree divorces "for any such misconduct as permanently destroys the happiness of the petitioner, and defeats the purposes of the marriage union."

Divorces increase with the increased grounds allowed by the law for granting divorces. For example: Connecticut—in 1849, 91 divorces were granted. In 1858, 299; an increase of two hundred per cent in ten years. Vermont—1860, 94 divorces; 1878, 179; one hundred per cent increase. Ohio—1874, 837 divorces; 1883, 1,159; thirty-six per cent increase. Massachusetts—1860, one divorce to 51 marriages; 1878, one to 21; an increase of over two hundred per cent. The causes for divorce were, in 1860, five. They were nine in 1878.

As already stated, the increase of divorce tends to an increase of the crimes against chastity and infant life.

Massachusetts, two periods, 1860 to 1864; 1875 to 1879.

	In the former period.	In the latter period.
Adultery	135 cases	367	200 per cent increase.
Abortion	3 cases	18	500 " " "
Polygamy	18 cases	50	180 " " "
Fornication	243 cases	934	275 " " "
Rape	16 cases	28	80 " " "
Indecent exposure...	31 cases	118	250 " " "

Fœticide and infanticide are far too prevalent in this country. Their prevalence finds a cause in the growing laxness of marriage laws, and in the increasing disregard and disesteem of the sacred domestic relations. At the rate of the increase of divorces and grounds of divorce, and also of the crimes against chastity during the last half century, how long will it be until a deluge of social corruption will sweep from our fair land the loveliest and dearest flowers of our Christian civilization? What may we then expect, except God's blasting judgments like those of Sodom and Gomorrah? Is it not time to pause and inquire whereunto this thing will grow? We are drifting. The dangerous rocks and reefs are all around us. Our civilization, with its priceless heritage and freightage of human hopes and destinies, is in peril. Let the alarm be sounded! Let it be heeded! What can be done? What ought to be done? What measures and methods promise most success?

The public conscience should be aroused and quickened.

A healthy public sentiment should be created in favor of social purity, and which would make lax marriage laws impossible.

All tendencies to lax social morals, and all invasions of home purity and of the sacred obligations of marriage, should be resisted.

The menace of polygamous Utah should be put aside.

Parents should faithfully and effectively teach their children the sacredness and value of the home, and the scope and force of the fifth commandment.

The day and Sunday schools, and the literature of both, should teach the purest morality as to the home and the marriage bond. They should also inculcate filial reverence and duty.

Earnest teaching, warning, and remonstrance should be put forth in defense of marriage, the home and the family.

All sects and parties of Christians should unite in efforts to rid the land of the curse of lax marriage laws, and of marriage laws in different and adjoining States, so dissimilar as not only to make divorce easy and for inadequate grounds, but also, actually, to induce and facilitate the obtaining of divorces.

An amendment to the Constitution of the United States should be secured, making all divorce laws in the several States uniform and Christian, and reducing the causes for which divorce can be granted to the lowest possible limit, i. e., to the Christian limit.

The law of the Church on this subject should be faithfully applied. See Discipline, paragraph 46, namely: "No divorce, except for adultery, shall be regarded by the Church as lawful, and no minister shall solemnize marriage in any case where there is a divorced wife or husband living; but this rule shall not be applied to the innocent party to a divorce for the cause of adultery, nor to divorced parties seeking to be reunited in marriage."

EDUCATION.

YOUR Committee on Education calls attention to the historic fact that Methodism took being among students of a university, and that the Church has been, from the beginning, the projector and conservator of institutions, providing for and cherishing learning, and still pursues that policy, as evidenced by the continued care, supervision, and patronage given the institutions for higher Christian learning; and in this connection, in the interest of general education, we record our hearty commendation of the "Chautauqua Idea," which seeks to put into homes, for systematic reading, a large range of literature, touching almost, if not quite, all branches of learning, yet "keeping our Heavenly Father in the midst," and proposing to give "the students' outlook" to those who may not, for any reason, have followed a college course, or who desire to follow new lines of thought growing out of modern research or discovery. "Chautauqua," making Methodism honored in the world of literature, deserves and receives recognition.

As to particular institutions, we respectfully report as follows:

OHIO WESLEYAN UNIVERSITY.

It is gratifying to the many friends of the Ohio Wesleyan University, to note that the growth of the institution continues with the increase of population, and the advance in material resources of the State, and the increasing desire for higher culture.

The enrollment for the year was 830 pupils, the number for last year being 750; these students came from 84 of the 88 counties in Ohio, and from 28 States and countries. The Visiting Committee from this Conference, Rev. Wm. L. Hypes, D. D., and Rev. Matthias M. Kugler, M. A., were present at the examinations and commend the faculty for doing faithful and efficient work, and the pupils for their intelligent comprehension of the studies pursued, while the association of young men and women in recitations is exerting a refining and ennobling influence upon both. The Discipline is approved by them as careful and healthful. The classes are too large for the best interests of the students, while at the same time the professors have too much to do; in some instances it has been found necessary to employ pupils as teachers. It is apparent that the very prosperity of the institution becomes occasion of embarrassment, and reveals the necessity for increased accommodations as to buildings, a larger number of professors, the enlargement or addition of departments of instruction, and hence the imperative need for better endowment. The religious condition of the University is most excellent, "the prayer-meetings being largely attended and full of enthusiasm, while conversions have taken place from time to time. Following the day of prayer for colleges there was a most gracious work of the Spirit, most marked in the manifestation of the divine power as seen in the Scriptural character of the conversions, and the clearness with which converts bore testimony to the work wrought within them." Originating with the Board of Trustees, petitions, under the provisions of the Dow Law, led the City Council to pass an ordinance prohibiting the sale of intoxicating drinks in Delaware, the ordinance to take effect July 13, 1887; and now the patrons of the Ohio Wesleyan University may send their sons—aye, and their daughters also—to this Christian college, located in a city where legal prohibition of the LIQUOR traffic prevails, with assurance of exemption from the temptations and evils resulting inevitably from such traffic.

Rejoicing in the revival influence which has prevailed among the students during the year, and praying that it may deepen and widen year by year, we commend to the liberal patronage of the Church this college, where mental discipline and spiritual culture go hand in hand.

Financially, the year has been a good one; the report of the secretary and treasurer shows an increase in the permanent fund of $68,505.53. We subjoin the entire report.

W. G. WILLIAMS, Secretary of the Board.

We recommend that the Bishop be requested to appoint Rev. Charles H. Payne, D. D., LL. D., to the Presidency, and Rev. Lorenzo D. McCabe, D. D., LL. D., to the Chair of Philosophy in the Ohio Wesleyan University.

We recommend that Rev. John J. Reed, D. D., and Rev. James P. Porter, A. M., be appointed Visitors and Examiners for 1887-8, with Rev. Heber D. Ketcham, A. M., as alternate.

We recommend the election of Rev. R. S. Rust, D. D., LL. D., for a term of five years, to fill the vacancy in the Board of Trustees caused by the expiration of his term.

We approve the action of the Trustees in the appointment of Rev.

Leroy A. Belt, D. D., as Financial Agent of the University, and will cordially co-operate with him in our respective charges.

CINCINNATI WESLEYAN COLLEGE.

The conclusion of a report of a Commission appointed by this Conference, and reporting one year ago (vide Conference Minutes of 1886, page 91), is as follows: "That any legal control has ever been exercised by the Churches is not shown by the records of the College or the Cincinnati Conference, and the conclusion is that the corporation has a distinct and separate existence, without any direct or implied legal relation to the Church or the Conference."

We recommend to the Bishop the appointment of Rev. W. K. Brown, D. D., to the Presidency of the Cincinnati Wesleyan College, and at his urgent request recommend the appointment, as Visitors and Examiners for 1887-8, of the following named persons of his selection, namely: Rev. H. B. Ridgaway, D. D., Rev. C. W. Ketcham, D. D., Rev. C. W. Rishell, A. M., Mrs. Dr. Wm. B. Davis, and Mrs. Rev. John Pearson. In the interest of the cause of education we gratefully recognize and appreciate the benefaction of Wm. Glenn, deceased, late of Cincinnati, of $7,000 to the Cincinnati Wesleyan College.

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed to communicate to Dr. Brown the fact that rumors have come to this body of practices in the Wesleyan College which this Conference can not approve, and to say to him, that if these practices are continued, the College can not hope for the favor and patronage of this Conference.

HILLSBORO FEMALE COLLEGE.

The Visitors appointed by this Conference last year were Revs. Davis W. Clark, George W. Kelly, and John Pearson, who carefully inspected the premises, looked into the affairs of the institution, and attended the examinations throughout.

The building and grounds have been refitted and beautified, the study-rooms and dormitories refurnished, the chapel has been freshened with paint, paper, carpets, and inside shutters, and throughout an inviting and home-like atmosphere extends. The outlook is promising. May last, the saloons were legally closed, and the salubrious town of Hillsboro was thus better prepared to receive young ladies for their education.

We recommend the appointment of Rev. W. C. Helt, Ph. D., to the Presidency of the College, and that the presiding elder of the district, and the pastors of Hillsboro, Wilmington, and Greenfield, be the Visitors and Examiners for the ensuing year. We recommend as Trustees, John Pearson, the presiding elder of the district; D. W. Clark, L. F. Van Cleve, W. Hoyt, J. L. West, J. M. Hiestand, and J. C. Hallowell.

XENIA COLLEGE.

The Committee appointed by this body one year ago reports as follows:

Your Committee appointed to settle up the affairs of Xenia College for the Cincinnati Conference would respectfully report that careful attention has been given to the commission and work intrusted to it. The Trustees are in harmony with the wishes of the Conference as expressed in your action of last year, and measures to carry out the instructions given are now in process of execution, and as soon as the College effects can be disposed of, the money will be obtained and reported to the Conference.

The note of Dr. DeMotte for $400 has been surrendered to him in accordance with your action. The College proprietors request the Bishop to reappoint Dr. DeMotte to the Presidency of the Xenia College.

D. J. STARR,
W. RUNYAN,
B. F. DIMMICK, } Committee.

We recommend the continuance of the above Committee, with instructions to them to complete their action in reference to remaining assets; we further recommend that Rev. Wm. Runyan, D. D., be empowered to cast the vote represented by the 120 shares of stock owned by the Cincinnati Conference, in any question which may arise calling for such expression.

SPRINGFIELD FEMALE COLLEGE.

We respectfully ask the Conference to reaffirm the action of last year.

"At the last session of this Conference the interests of the Conference in the real estate and funds of this institution were committed to the care of Rev. L. F. Van Cleve, D. D. He reports that a lease upon the property prevents any present final settlement. We recommend that he continue to act as the representative of the Conference in the case.

"We recommend the election of W. J. White, J. M. Deardorff, P. P. Mast, C. H. Schaeffer, J. L. Berry, and J. S. Shewalter as Trustees, their terms to begin September 1, 1887."

THEOLOGICAL SCHOOLS.

With the growing demands upon the pulpit, we express our profound gratitude to the great Head of the Church for the increasing advantages offered theologues in the "schools of the prophets," which year by year are becoming better qualified to realize the demands for which they were instituted, and to meet the devout expectations of the Church. With broadening culture we discover deepening spirituality: A wise provision of the Discipline allows young men to maintain their Conference relation while they attend these schools.

From GARRETT BIBLICAL INSTITUTE we have the good news of the completion of the Memorial Hall, containing chapel, library, reading-room, recitation and professors' rooms. Commodious and beautiful it stands; it represents $40,000 consecrated in an enduring structure to the theological training of ministers of the future. We recommend the Bishop to appoint Rev. Henry B. Ridgaway, D. D., to the presidency of Garrett Biblical Institute.

DREW THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY is adding to the number of educational buildings, and prosecuting the work of preparing young men, so far as human preparation can effect it, to be "able ministers of the New Testament."

The BOSTON SCHOOL OF THEOLOGY, located as it is in a great city, with easy access to great libraries, and where attrition of thought is conducive to vigorous development, affords peculiar advantages to the candidate for the ministry.

These three schools are each good, and a student completing the curriculum in either of them, and then actualizing the training there received, will be able to do more and better work for the Church, for humanity, and for the glory of God.

We recommend as Visitors and Examiners to Garrett, Rev. Valorous F. Brown and Rev. J. E. H. Sentman; to Drew, Rev. Wilbur G. Warner, A. M., B. D., and Lewis G. Tufts, A. M., B. D.; and to Boston University, Rev. James Murray, Rev. David C. Ridgway, and Rev. Henry Witham.

CONFERENCE EDUCATIONAL SOCIETY.

We recommend the election of the following:

President—C. W. KETCHAM.

Vice-president—I. W. JOYCE.

Secretary—SYLVESTER WEEKS.

Treasurer—JAMES M. DE CAMP.

Additional members—John W. Dale, Theodore F. Spear, John M. Pattison, W. K. Brown, Jesse R. Clark, Wm. L. Hypes.

EVANGELISTS.

Memorial to the General Conference.

YOUR Committee, who were instructed to prepare a memorial to the next General Conference, in reference to recognizing the office of Evangelist in the Methodist Episcopal Church, and providing for their ecclesiastical regulation and control, beg leave to respectfully report as follows:

To the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, in General Conference assembled:

DEAR FATHERS AND BRETHREN,—Impressed with the fact that the Apostolic Church recognized and utilized evangelists, together with apostles, prophets, pastors, and teachers, “for the perfecting of the saints, for the work of the ministry, for the edifying of the body of Christ,” we are persuaded that their disciplinary recognition, regulation, and control in the Methodist Episcopal Church will make them an efficient arm of service in the spiritual aggressiveness of the Church. While apostles and prophets were few in number and without successors, evangelists were numerous, and have continued to this day. While the word describes a work rather than designates an order in the ministry, and while evangelist, pastor, and teacher may be, and most frequently are, united in one man, yet there are persons peculiarly adapted to preceding pastors; preparing the way for them, gathering and saving men in places where the Gospel has not been accepted. Such persons may be ordained or unordained, licensed, or otherwise; they hold revival meetings to awaken and lead sinners to Christ, or reclaim backsliders, or to induce believers to seek entire sanctification. Generally, but not invariably, evangelists work in harmony with, and under the direction of, the preacher in charge. So laboring, they are useful, and leave no unpleasant, injurious influence behind them; otherwise baleful mischief often results. Except as they may be ministers or members of the Church, they are not made responsible by any statute or disciplinary rule. Under the present Discipline of the Church, a traveling preacher, feeling that he is called to do the work of an evangelist exclusively, though in the strength of vigorous manhood, is compelled to ask the relation of a supernumerary preacher before he can respond to such divine call. We therefore respectfully petition that the Discipline, in order to recognize, regulate, and control evangelists in the Methodist Episcopal Church, be amended in the following particulars, to wit:

In ¶ 571 (Appendix) insert the word "exhorters" before the word "stewards."

In ¶ 198, after the words, "wherever an opportunity is afforded," insert, "if to hold meetings as evangelists, subject to the invitation and direction of the preacher in charge of the circuit or station where such meetings are held."

Add to ¶ 198, "at each session of the district or quarterly conference to which he belongs, each exhorter shall report his labors as follows, viz.: 1. Number of meetings held; 2. Number of exhortations or addresses delivered; 3. Numerical results; 4. Miscellaneous items."

After § 8, miscellaneous items in ¶ 190, insert, "In case a local elder, deacon, or preacher does the work of an evangelist outside the bounds of the district or quarterly conference where he resides, and within the bounds of a circuit or station, he shall do such work at the invitation and under the direction of the preacher in charge of the circuit or station where he may bestow such labor."

In ¶ 164, § 3, after the words, "when requested by an annual conference to appoint a preacher for a longer time than three years to any seminary of learning not under our care," insert, "an evangelist, who shall have a seat in the quarterly conference, and all the privileges of membership in the Church where he may reside, and who shall report annually to his conference the extent and results of his labors as an evangelist."

Follow ¶ 185 by a ¶ properly numbered, to read, "An exhorter or a local preacher, laboring as an evangelist, or a traveling preacher appointed as an evangelist, and laboring as such within the bounds of an existing charge, shall always co-operate with and be subject to the preacher in charge of said circuit or station. The presiding elder of the district shall have official oversight of all evangelists laboring within the bounds of his district."

Signed in behalf of the Cincinnati Annual Conference.

EVANGELICAL PROTESTANTISM IN CITIES.

THE Committee to consider the subject of Evangelical Protestantism in Cities begs to report as follows:

We are confronted with the startling question whether evangelical Protestantism is tightening its grasp upon our cities, and whether its growth keeps pace with the increase of our metropolitan population. In not a few instances our costliest and largest churches have small congregations, while many churches which were formerly prosperous have now become too feeble to be self-supporting. In some cities a process of consolidation is going on which reduces the number of places in which the Gospel is preached. The population in the immediate neighborhood of some of these churches is more dense than ever, while the Churches become more feeble year by year. In spite of the Gospel light which shines upon the country as a whole, there are spots in such cities as New York, Chicago, and Cincinnati which are as dark as any to be found in heathen cities. The influence of the city as an element of our civilization is constantly increasing, while it hardly admits of doubt that the moral tone of that influence is falling lower and lower. The city, as a center of power, ought to be a center of light and purity; but it is not so. The worst elements of the population are massed together in our cities, and there are concocted those schemes which threaten the peace of the nation. The city is the stronghold of the saloon, the rallying-place of anarchism, and has already become, in not a few instances, the menace of our age.

A full statement of the case in a report like this is impossible; our aim now is simply to call attention to a condition of things which bodes no good to either religion or the nation, and a condition of things which challenges the most sincere and prayerful consideration of the Church of God. For example, we need to ask ourselves whether we have, as we should have, the true spirit of Christ in our attitude toward certain classes. Is it true that we really desire to see the lowest and worst, the moral outcasts, people with soiled faces and worse clothing; is it true that we really desire to see in our churches those classes who, by their abject poverty and their leprous depravity, most need the Gospel? When one such strays into the congregation, is he sincerely welcomed, or is he repelled with coldness or expressions of positive dislike? The spirit of the Church is the vital thing in the solution of this problem. A mission church without the true spirit of missions might as well not be built, and there is reason for profound and serious inquiry as to the real spirit of modern Protestantism in its attitude toward the poorest, the weakest, and the worst, in our city populations. Would we not get more of the poor if we really desired to get them? The common people heard Jesus gladly. They came to hear because he loved them, and they knew and felt that he loved them.

In such an inquiry as is here suggested, there is something which is not wholly pleasant to us; but we do know that the Church can unconsciously drift away from the true spirit of the Gospel, so that while she still dreams that she possesses purity and power, the Lord may be threatening to remove her candlestick unless she repents. Certain it is that the maintenance and increase of evangelical religion in cities is at this moment one of the most profound and complicated problems which the Church has to solve, and there must be reasons for this condition of things. Painful as it may be to inquire what these reasons are, the first duty of the Church is to make the inquiry, and unflinchingly accept the results.

We offer no resolutions upon the subject, and make no attempt at an exhaustive discussion of it. We only call attention now to a question, the importance of which it is impossible to exaggerate. It may not be practicable at this time to formulate a plan of action; but unless something is done in the near future, there is reason to fear that American cities will take on the habits of the cities of Continental Europe, in which the Sabbath is made a day of profane indulgence, and evangelical religion is largely an object of contempt.

The doctrines, polity, spirit, and history of Methodism, all justify the hope that she will lead in the discussion of this momentous question, and in the adoption of practical measures to arrest the metropolitan degeneracy, which is already sufficient to cause alarm.

FINANCE.

YOUR Committee on Finance begs leave to submit the following:

We heartily rejoice in, and are sincerely grateful to our Heavenly Father for, the increased liberality of our people in their support of the Church and its enterprises of benevolence.

While we recognize in the better support of the Church, and increased contributions for the benevolences of the Church, the development of a more liberal spirit, we are compelled to say that, in our judgment, the Church has ability to do larger things, and that there is great need of a more thorough awakening of the people upon this very important subject. In order to accomplish this, we believe that the ministry should labor as earnestly to enlighten the people upon this subject as upon any other.

We believe that a more systematic plan by which to raise the means for the support of the Church than that usually employed will be productive of much larger results. A method embodying the principles enunciated in the Discipline and reaching every member of the society, and developing the habit of systematic giving, should be employed. Let the people be taught to "lay by in store on the first day of the week" for the Lord's cause, "as he hath prospered them."

We would severely condemn the practice that obtains in many charges of estimating, not a "comfortable support" for the pastor as the Discipline directs, but an allowance small enough to bring it within the narrow limits of their willingness to pay. Such a course is a violation of the letter and spirit of the Discipline, and develops a spirit of illiberality in the Church, and lays the foundation for future reductions of the allowance. Let each charge estimate a "comfortable support" for its pastor, and make an honest effort to meet it.

We would also severely condemn the action of any preacher, who, in order to make it appear that he receives a large allowance, induces the estimating committee to make such allowance, with the understanding that he will assume the payment of a part of it himself. We believe such an action to be dishonest, and certainly very disappointing to his successor.

FREEDMEN'S AID.

THERE are about six and a half millions of colored people in the South. Many of these are poor and ignorant and degraded, and merit the sympathy and help of all Christian people.

To instruct the ignorant, to help the needy, and to elevate the degraded, is the highest calling and truest goodness. We recognize in the Freedmen's Aid Society an efficient agent of the Church in the accomplishment of such a work. The marvelous improvement in the condition of this people within the past twenty years is due in a large measure to the effectual work of the Freedmen's Aid Society.

While we are grateful for the achievements of the past, we hope for still greater in the future; therefore,

Resolved, 1. That this Society is worthy of the confidence and hearty support of all our people; and we most earnestly commend its claims to their benevolent consideration.

Resolved, 2. That we indorse the able and judicious manner in which the Freedmen's Aid Society settled the difficult questions involved in the Chattanooga University, thus declaring that the mission of the Methodist Episcopal Church is to all men, irrespective of color, race, or previous condition of servitude.

Resolved, 3. That we herein express our continued confidence in the integrity and ability of the administration of our honored Secretary and his assistant, Drs. Rust and Hartzell.

Resolved, 4. That we recommend that each pastor of the Cincinnati Conference earnestly endeavor to raise his apportionment for the Freedmen's Aid Society.

Respectfully submitted.

MORMONISM.

THE Committee on Mormonism begs leave to report:

1. That this Conference reaffirms its former position of unqualified condemnation of the great moral, social, and political evil of Mormon polygamy.

2. That we protest against the admission of Utah Territory as a State of the Union, until polygamy shall be entirely suppressed. We warn the National Congress against the admission of the Territory under the thin disguise of a constitution nominally prohibiting polygamy, when all future legislation in the State, once admitted, shall rest with polygamists.

3. That we recommend the Congress of the United States to pass a law of marriage and divorce to be uniformly applied to all the States and Territories. If an amendment to the National Constitution is necessary to secure the law, let the Constitution be so amended.

4. That we pledge our co-operation, by voice, vote, and petition, and by all laudable means, with all Christian and well-disposed citizens, in the promotion of measures, whether by authority of law or by evangelizing and reformatory movement, to secure the abolishment of this crying and brazen wrong.

MISSIONS.

YOUR Committee appointed to consider the general subject of Missions, begs leave to report as follows:

The importance and greatness of the subject can not well be over estimated; for its widening circles, sweeping through domestic and foreign missions, encompass the whole world. Its problems, which press upon the brain and heart of the Church, are numerous and of transcendent importance. Of these we do not reckon as the greatest the question, How shall the gateways of the nations that lie in darkness, and in the region and shadow of death, be opened to the advance of the Gospel? for already God, in his providence, has not only set these gates ajar, but pushed them wide open; and from whitening fields in every land there are outstretched hands beckoning us to come and help them, so that this question has substantially passed from the realm of Christian problems. Neither is it any longer a problem, Where shall we find men and women with cultivated brain and consecrated hearts to go into these fields, and carry the Gospel of good tidings to the ends of the earth? for even more rapidly than the Church is able to send them forward, God is raising up noble young men and women in every part of the Church, who are seeking thorough equipment, and are ready to consecrate their lives to missionary work.

There are many inviting and promising fields from which most urgent and heart-moving appeals are coming; but our Missionary Board can only sympathize with, weep over, and pray for these perishing ones, for the money is not in the treasury to send help. Therefore, it is our judgment that the greatest problem to be solved is, How shall we get the Church baptized with the missionary spirit, so that from her abundance she will fill the missionary treasury, and make it to overflow with the means necessary to enable the Parent Board to push this work up to the measure of our expanding opportunities?

As contributing to the solution of this problem, your Committee desires to present for your consideration a few practical suggestions.

We recommend:

1. That there should be greater diligence in laying on the heart and conscience of the Church the privilege and duty of missionary work; and its inspiration to do this work should be fed and enlarged, not by spasmodic efforts, preaching a missionary sermon once a year only, but by steadily gathering and pouring out upon the Church the freshest living facts concerning the movements of the Church in the widening fields of missionary effort. In accomplishing this work, we can not do better than to diligently carry out our disciplinary plan, for along these lines is hidden one of the secrets of inspiring the Church to advance to and beyond the Million-line, and to hold her steady and constant in this onward movement.

2. We commend the holding of district missionary conventions at least annually, and more frequently where practicable; thus emphasizing the importance of this work before the people, and creating in their minds a disposition to investigate, pray over, and become better informed on these subjects; and as this educational work goes forward, the spirit of giving will develop.

3. We recommend the diligent circulation of our missionary literature. Our pastors and people should be diligent readers of The Gospel in All Lands, and carefully circulate all our forms of missionary literature, for out of these treasures will come that intelligent understanding of the work that will broaden the conception of its magnitude and importance, and inspire the spirit of co-operation and sacrifice among our people.

4. We recommend that the third Sabbath in the month of May be set apart as Missionary-day for the Conference, and that on this day, so far as practicable, we make our annual missionary offerings. The very thought that the entire Conference is on that day singing, praying, thinking, hearing sermons, and giving to this blessed cause, will be in itself an inspiration to noble emulation and generous gifts.

5. We do not think it wise to recommend any particular methods of taking these collections, believing that each pastor will do better to wisely adjust his harness to himself and his surroundings; but we would urge in a general way that careful and diligent preparation be made for this event; that you reserve the best and strongest points for this final day; and when the supreme hour is come, your own mind penetrated with the importance of the work you are to do, and your souls baptized with the fire which comes only from the divine altar, do your best, make your appeal, and trust in God for results.

We would, at this point, also recommend the pastors to carefully consider the great value of seeking the small gifts as well as large donations to this cause. It is true that thousands of our people can not give largely; but if they are looked after and encouraged they will give small sums, and these small gifts throughout the Conference, when aggregated, will count into thousands of dollars. One simple illustration will give great emphasis to this thought. Our membership within the bounds of this Conference numbers about 40,000 souls. Suppose that each of these members could be so imbued with the spirit of sacrifice that they would each, during the coming year, give the sum of one cent per day to the cause of missions, at the close of the year we could put into the treasury of the Parent Board the astonishing sum of $146,000; or if the rate is but half a cent per day the sum total would amount to $73,000; or if the rate were but one-fourth cent it would reach $36,500, overstepping the Million-line for this Conference. And who, penetrated with the spirit of Christ, could not measure up to this standard of benevolence to the cause of missions?

We, therefore, earnestly recommend that this Conference, in its efforts to promote advanced missionary benevolence during the coming year, adopt as our battle-cry, At least one-fourth of one cent from each member per day throughout the year.

If this result could be reached, our advance next year would be about $9,000 beyond the present year. Is not this worthy of our consideration?

Our attention has been called to the use of missionary certificates in our charges. We can not commend their use at the present time as a measure having any special importance or usefulness in securing contributions to our missionary cause. We recommend, where they are used in any of our charges, that the pastor should use special care that none receive them except by strict compliance with the condition established by the missionary authorities of our Church.

Respectfully submitted.

PARSONAGES.

It is too true that one-third of our charges have no parsonages, and seem to be making little effort to meet this necessity.

We learn from the reports of the presiding elders that only two or three parsonages have been built during the past year, and these, it may be, were rebuilt. We regret exceedingly that there has been so little done in this direction.

That we may have one on every work, we recommend the adoption of the following:

Resolved, 1. That where there are no parsonages, we request our pastors, as soon as possible, to take the proper steps to secure a lot, and start a fund for the erection of a house, and that in locating the same, they will consider the Church, the school, and the railroad.

Resolved, 2. That we recommend our people when about to build, to examine the plans furnished by our Church Extension Society.

Resolved, 3. That we call special attention to paragraph 377 of our Discipline, which refers to the furnishing of our parsonages with at least the heavy articles of furniture.

Resolved, 4. That our pastors and parsonage committees see that both houses and grounds are kept in good repair and beautified.

PEACE.

THE Committee recommend to the Conference the adoption of the following resolutions:

Resolved, 1. That the Conference commends to the sympathy and support of the Churches all wise and well-directed efforts to substitute arbitration or other amicable and pacific reference in the settlement of international differences in place of an appeal to the sword, and thus help to hasten the coming of that reign of peace so closely associated, by promise and prophecy, with the ultimate triumph of Christianity.

Resolved, 2. That it is important and essential to the triumph of a religion of peace, that the "principles of Christianity, which underlie the systems of modern international law," acting in harmony, and promotive of the Gospel of the Prince of peace, should be maintained as positively vital and important as any other great reforms of the day.

Resolved, 3. That a committee of five be appointed by the Conference, whose duty it shall be to watch over the interests of the cause of peace, and report at the next Conference.

PERIODICALS AND BOOK ACCOUNTS.

THE financial exhibits of the Book Concerns of the Methodist Episcopal Church, together with the annual report of the Book Committee were before us, and show a healthy condition and encouraging growth in this department of our ecclesiastical interests. The assets during the year have increased $229,051. The total assets of the Concerns, East and West, now aggregate $2,151,497. Our family of Christian Advocates enroll 165,000 subscribers. In the Sunday-school department 455,000 Sunday-school Advocates, Classmates, and Sunday-school Journals are circulated, and 1,400,000 lesson leaves are sent out on their errand of assisting the children and youth of the Church to understand God's holy Word. Nearly all of the depositories have been managed so as to return some margin of profit. The Methodist Review and Our Youth have been ably and excellently edited, and deserve a more liberal support from the Church.

By the death of Dr. Daniel Curry, the Church and the Review, which contained the impress of his pure heart and masterly mind, have sustained a very great loss, and no easy task falls to the lot of those whose duty it is to fill his place.

A dividend of $30,000 to the Conferences for superannuated preachers is a gratifying proof of efficient management by the agents, and a source of much satisfaction to the Church, and it is to be hoped that at no distant day not less than $100,000 will annually reach this worthy class of claimants. The business of these concerns has progressed rapidly towards a cash basis, and we venture to hope that complete settlements of all accounts with the Book Concern will be made at every Conference at an early day.

No cases of delinquency by members of this Conference have been referred to us, and it is hoped that action on individual cases of delinquency by committees and by Conference, will soon cease to be necessary and pass into tradition.

We do not wish to indulge in denominational boasting, but rather to recognize and commend the excellent and able editorial skill with which our periodicals have been conducted, and which places them in the very front rank of Church publications. Nor are they more expensive than those of equally good paper and typography published elsewhere. We especially commend the Western Christian Advocate, published within our Conference bounds, and urge upon all our families the importance of its weekly visits for both the denominational information and for the wholesome moral and spiritual culture it affords. And we further urge upon the pastors increased efforts to bring it into more general circulation as an efficient and intelligent co-laborer for the promotion of all moral and religious improvement and reforms. The editorship, by a member of this Conference, J. H. Bayliss, D. D., whose scholarly and vigorous writing deserves most hearty commendation, and should stimulate all his Conference associates to give the Western Christian Advocate still greater prominence in their representations of our periodicals before the people. We also wish to impress upon the Conference that additional effort to put into circulation our denominational literature will benefit our people and tend to displace much that is deleterious to religious life and morals. And we also hope that the agents will so carefully inquire into and know the character of the books which they keep on sale and supply, that all may feel perfectly safe in putting into circulation any book which the Methodist Book Concern may keep for sale.

SABBATH OBSERVANCE.

As Christians and philanthropists, and even from the lower plane of humanitarianism, we can not but deplore the wide-spread Sabbath desecration that prevails. If this desecration were confined to conscienceless corporations, as railroads and great newspapers, and the hosts in cities who come to our shores with their anti-Sabbath and anti-Christian and anti-American ideas; if it were confined to those who trample on every thing sacred, it would not be so surprising and deplorable; but too many professedly Christian people, instead of being breakwaters to the on-rolling and desolating flood, help to give it impulse by buying and reading secular papers, by unnecessary traveling on that day, by patronizing and encouraging camp-meetings whose gates are kept open on the Sabbath, thus turning this day of rest into one of excitement and turmoil. If the camp-meeting, as it is often alleged, can not be sustained as to its expenses in any other way than by encouraging a large influx through its gates on Sunday, then, in the judgment of your Committee, it had better become a thing of the past; that when we urge the sanctity of the Sabbath, we should be no longer met with the retort, "Physician, heal thyself."

As in every other form of evil, so in this, if we as Christians, and especially as Methodists, would help roll back this tide of Sabbath desecration our hands must be clean and our hearts pure.

Resolved, That as ministers of the Gospel we will do all we can, in public and in private, to uphold and enforce the sanctity and necessity of the Sabbath; that we will set our faces against the opening of art halls and fairs, and all places of amusement and entertainment, on the Sabbath, as a desecration of God's law; that we will discourage, by precept and example, all traveling on that day for convenience or pleasure, and that we recommend to those in charge of camp-meetings that they close the gates on the Sabbath.

SUNDAY-SCHOOL SOCIETY.

THE officers and managers of the Conference Sunday-school Union submit the following as their report:

WE are glad to recognize the growing interest in Sunday-school work, the great advance in missionary collections from the schools, and a more general conformity to the disciplinary plan in organization and control in all our schools.

We regret that no favorable opportunity could be given for anniversary services at this Conference session, and would commend this interest to the consideration of the Committee on Public Worship of next year.

We recommend the re-election of the officers and managers for the ensuing year, with the addition of E. McHugh to the Board of Managers.

E. BURDSALL, Secretary.

THE SUNDAY-SCHOOL CAUSE.

YOUR Committee on the Sunday-school Cause begs leave to make the following report:

In view of the extensive reports of our presiding elders on the Sunday-schools in the Conference, we conclude that the schools are increasing both in interest and in numbers.

We regard the Sunday-school as a part of the Christian Church, having the same object in view—viz., the salvation of souls—and we, therefore, recommend that a careful and persistent effort be made to organize all our schools in accordance with the Discipline of the Church.

We most earnestly and sincerely recommend our pastors and superintendents to patronize our own publications and periodicals, and we pledge ourselves to use our endeavors to secure this end.

It is a lamentable fact that there is a vast amount of ignorance on the part of our Sunday-school scholars and teachers with reference to the doctrines of our Church; we recommend that the Catechism be used in all our schools.

We most certainly regard the Bible as the text-book of our Sunday-schools, and in view of the fact that our Sunday-school lessons are arranged for references to the Word of God, we recommend that each teacher and scholar have his own Bible in the school.

Our observation is that there is too much ditty singing, coupled with trashy theology, which is not in harmony with the doctrines of our Church, in our Sunday-schools; therefore, we recommend that our own Epworth Hymnal be introduced into all our schools, believing it to be the best book published for Sunday-schools.

We call attention to the serious fact that but few of our Sunday-school scholars attend public preaching, especially in our city charges, and we earnestly request the co-operation of parents, Sunday-school superintendents, officers, and teachers to secure the attendance of all our scholars upon the public services of the sanctuary.

D. L. AULTMAN, Secretary.

J. G. VAUGHAN, Chairman.

TEMPERANCE.

A GENERAL survey of the whole field of conflict reveals the encouraging fact that the temperance army is steadily marching forward to certain victory.

No State heretofore won for prohibition has been retaken by the liquor foe during the past year, but temperance sentiment has been everywhere strengthened and widened, existing laws have been in some instances improved, large areas have been rescued through local prohibition, and Dakota Territory knocks at the door of the Federal Union with a prohibitory constitution.

Great battles have been fought in Michigan and Texas, and although constitutional prohibition has been defeated in these States, its friends are not disheartened, and what is defeat to-day will be turned into victory to-morrow.

The States of Tennessee and West Virginia are now in the heat of the battle for constitutional prohibition, with bright prospects of victory. Pennsylvania and other States will soon be involved in the same strife, provided the people do not allow themselves to be deceived by the high-license movement inaugurated by liquor-dealers and politicians, who are doing their utmost to stave off the prohibition issue, which everywhere is rapidly becoming the great political question of the day.

As the great contest goes forward, the spirit that inspires the liquor-traffic is more and more clearly revealed. The foul murder of the Rev. George C. Haddock last year, in Iowa, has been followed this year by the assassination of editor Gambrell in Mississippi, the attempted assassination of attorney Smith in New Jersey, violent attacks upon many others, intimidations and fraud in Michigan, and mob violence in Texas. We seem to have entered fairly upon the period of violence and bloodshed in the prohibition movement, and it scarcely requires the gift of prophecy to forecast the probabilities of the near future.

There is no outrage or crime the minions of this dreadful traffic will not commit. They will subsidize the press, corrupt political parties, intimidate voters, commit fraud upon the ballot-box, bribe legislators, suborn courts of justice, and defy the authority of law.

They murder thousands of our people annually, manufacture not less than eighty per cent of our criminals, seventy-five per cent of our paupers, and over fifty per cent of our lunatics.

They, more than all other agencies combined, create conflicts between capital and labor, breed communists and anarchists, and cause hard times. They destroy the body, brain, and soul of their victim, desolate the American home, hedge up the way of the Church of Christ, break up the peace of community, and threaten the very life of the nation. We indict the proprietors of the liquor-traffic as criminals, and with Bishop Foster declare that they deserve only a place in the "felon's dock, the felon's cell, and, if need be, the felon's gibbet."

We hold that every good citizen is under a sacred obligation to antagonize these monster criminals with tongue and influence and ballot; and particularly is this true of the ministers and laymen of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

As Methodists we are bound by instinct, doctrine, and the deliverances of our Church, to place the whole weight of our individual and ecclesiastical influence against the degrading and barbarizing business of liquor manufacturers and dealers.

No organization, whether social, ecclesiastical, or political, shall have our support, in any form or manner, that directly or indirectly, or in any other way, by license or tax (high or low), countenances, encourages, or supports, or fails to take a position against this "gigantic crime of crimes" and the men that promote it.

We approve of and will heartily support any law, or even fraction of a law, that restricts or prohibits even for one hour the desolating ravages of this traffic, provided it does not legalize it through license, or share its unholy revenues by taxing, where such restriction or prohibition does not obtain.

We denounce unqualifiedly the Sunday opening and taxing provisions of the Dow Law, and will never cease our efforts until these disgraceful measures are wiped from our statute-book.

We condemn the course of our late General Assembly in defeating the Temperance Scientific Educational Bill, urged so earnestly by the W. C. T. U., and refusing to repeal the God-defying Sunday opening provision of the Dow Law, and we again demand the passage of the former and the repeal of the latter.

We condemn the drink habit as being sinful and criminal, and we are in favor of penal statutes for drunkards.

The goal we seek is the constitutional prohibition of the importation, manufacture, and sale of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes, enforced by proper legislation, and we will continue this warfare until this end is achieved.

We recommend the earnest prosecution of temperance reform work, and to this end we favor the organization of lodges of Temples of Honor, Good Templars, Sons of Temperance, and other like institutions, and of juvenile temperance societies.

We express our high admiration for the organization and work of the W. C. T. U., and will co-operate with that body in the successful warfare it is waging against the saloon and in favor of the home.

We commend also the Social Purity and White Cross movement now being organized in this country, and extend to Miss Frances E. Willard and her associates our sympathy and co-operation in this department of the work of reform.

We recommend the reappointment of Rev. M. Dustin, D. D., as Temperance Agent for the Cincinnati Conference.

We nominate as officers for the Conference Temperance Society: President, S. O. Royal; First Vice-president, J. Murray; Second Vice-president, D. D. Cheney; Secretary, D. W. Clark; Treasurer, Jas. Stephenson.

Respectfully submitted.

TRACT CAUSE.

WHEREAS, Among the most important auxiliary efficiencies of our system, as proved by long experience and actual results, is the distribution of our Tract publications; and as no resource is more easily available or more helpful to the pastor and Church wishing to supplement and conserve their efforts, in the direction of evangelization, especially among the careless and prejudiced; and as no instrumentality can take its place in the instruction of our people in the deep matters of religious experience and in their information as to the successes and needs of our benevolences and the duties and responsibilities connected therewith; and as, in the opinion of those qualified to know, the baptism of Christian generosity, now coming upon the Church, is largely owing to the increased knowledge, thoughtfulness, and consecration which is due to the clear statements of the laws and duties of systematic giving contained in our tract literature; therefore, be it Resolved, 1. That we recommend to the members of the Cincinnati Conference increased effort in the matter of collections for the Tract Cause; and in order to this end the observance of Good-tidings Day, as appointed by the Sunday-school Union and Tract Society jointly, is advised. Also, it is advised that the collections of that day be divided equally between the two causes, and that the portion belonging to the Tract Society be remitted as quickly as possible, in case a return of the disciplinary half of the amount in tracts is desired.

2. That the several pastors be recommended to thoroughly utilize the quarterly conference and other available agencies for the dissemination of this form of our literature.

CONFERENCE HISTORIC CANE.

(See Journal of Proceedings, p. 34.)

THE historic cane was the gift of the Rev. D. D. Davisson. After he had spent forty years in the itinerancy, he voluntarily retired from the effective ranks, and began to make a disposition of his worldly goods. He made liberal bequests to Davisson Chapel—now Broadway Methodist Episcopal Church, West Dayton—to the Preachers' Relief Society of the Cincinnati Conference, and the balance of his estate, amounting to several thousand dollars, was given to the Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

The cane he had used many years he offered to William Herr, as a token of his personal and ministerial regard. The gift was respectfully declined, and, instead thereof, it was suggested that the cane be given to the Cincinnati Conference, to be presented through all successive years to the senior member of the Conference. Dr. Davisson was pleased with the suggestion, and, accordingly, shortly before his death, he handed the cane to William Herr, with instructions to present it to the senior member of the Conference, who, in the providence of God, proved to be the Rev. J. F. Wright, D. D.

The cane is a plain staff. On the top of the handle is a silver plate, engraved, "Rev. D. D. Davisson, born 1786." A silver band, ten sided, just below the handle of the cane, was supplied by the second senior to whom the cane descended, on which is engraved the following: "Dr. J. F. Wright, 1871; R. Brandriff, 1880."

At the last Cincinnati Conference, August 31, 1887, William Herr became, by legitimate succession, the senior member of the Conference, and, therefore, the next name on the cane will be William Herr, 1887, leaving seven spaces on the band to be filled in the future. As time rolls on, adding new bands as circumstances may demand, an estimate has been made that it will require the lapse of at least three hundred years to fill all the spaces with the names of senior members of the Cincinnati Conference.

God grant that before the expiration of those years the Gospel of Christ may be crowned with universal triumph! Amen.

PROCEEDINGS

LAY ELECTORAL CONFERENCE.

THE Lay Electoral Conference was called to order at 10 o'clock Friday morning, September 2, 1887, in the Methodist Episcopal Church at Mechanicsburg, O., and, on motion, Judge J. W. O'Neill, of Lebanon, was elected President, and James M. DeCamp, of Cincinnati, Secretary. Roll-call showed one hundred and one delegates present.

Dr. W. B. Davis presented resolutions of the Trinity (Cincinnati) Quarterly Conference, and also a memorial from Judge M. B. Hagans, touching improper electioneering methods with respect to General Conference delegates and officers, which, after discussion, were referred to a special Committee, consisting of Judge W. R. Warnock, Dr. W. B. Davis, and John W. Dale, who reported the resolutions in a modified form, but condemning the growing evil of ecclesiastical politics, which were adopted by an almost unanimous vote.

W. H. Todhunter presented resolutions looking to a condensing of presiding elder districts, making the office more administrative and supervisory than ministerial and particular, and as also being in the interests of economy. The subject was referred to a Committee of six from the several districts, viz.: J. N. Gamble, of the Cincinnati, W. H. Todhunter, of the Hamilton, Judge H. Elliott, of the Dayton, Judge E. G. Dial, of the Springfield, Hon. D. M. Barrett, of the Hillsboro, and James McMath, of the Ripley District.

This Committee subsequently reported resolutions suggesting a reduction of districts from six to five, leaving Ripley and Hillsboro Districts practically intact.

The resolutions were laid on the table, with a recommendation that the subject first receive the attention of the various quarterly conferences.

Brother J. N. Gamble presented the following resolution, which was adopted:

WHEREAS, The Methodist Episcopal Church rightly and lovingly recognizes baptized children as members on probation in the Church, be it Resolved, 1. That this Lay Electoral Conference request the Cincinnati Annual Conference to unite with us in a request to the General Conference that they provide such form of certificate of membership as will require the insertion of the names of baptized children.

2. That the President and Secretary be instructed to transmit a copy of the resolution to the Cincinnati Annual Conference, and another copy by the hand of our lay delegates to the General Conference.

On motion, the Conference proceeded to the election of two lay delegates to the General Conference, which resulted in the choice of Dr. J. E. Jones, of Cincinnati, and Hon. J. K. Pollard, of West Union.

Judge W. R. Warnock, of Urbana, and Andrew Coffman, of Eaton, were elected alternates.

On motion of W. H. Todhunter, the thanks of the body were tendered, by a rising vote, to the citizens of Mechanicsburg for their generous hospitality.

A committee of ministers from the Cincinnati Annual Conference, consisting of Revs. Doctors Starr, Payne, and Leonard, visited the session, and tendered official greetings, inviting the Lay Conference to meet the Annual Conference. The courtesy was accepted, and, after adjournment, the Conference proceeded in a body to the town hall, where Bishop Andrews greeted the delegates in a felicitous address, which was responded to by President O'Neill. Delegates Jones and Pollard were introduced to the Conference.

* MEMOIRS *

REV. GRANVILLE MOODY, D. D.

IN 1632, just twelve years after the Pilgrims landed on Plymouth Rock, William Moody, great-grandfather of Granville Moody, came to this country from Scotland, and settled in the Plymouth colony. From a small volume, entitled "Biographical Sketches of the Moody Family," published in Boston in 1847, it appears that not less than seventeen men bearing this honored name, in New England, attained to considerable distinction—ten of them as ministers of the Gospel, while nearly forty young men belonging to various branches of the family graduated from leading New England colleges from 1653 to 1836; mainly from Harvard and Dartmouth. Among these appears the name of William, father of Granville Moody, who graduated from Dartmouth College in 1798, and was soon after employed as principal of a classical seminary in Portland, Maine, a position which he filled with distinguished success until 1816, when he removed to Baltimore, Maryland, to take charge of the first female seminary ever established in that city.

Granville Moody was born in Portland, Maine, January 2, 1812—four years before the family removed to Baltimore. He was baptized in infancy by the saintly Dr. Payson, the pastor of his father's family, a fact to which he often referred with a natural and proper pride. His early educational advantages were such as the best schools in Baltimore afforded, including the well-known classical seminary taught by a Presbyterian minister, the Rev. Dr. Gibson. In the nineteenth year of his age he left Baltimore, on horseback, for Ohio, with a view to take a clerkship in a dry-goods store, which his brother, John B. Moody, had recently opened in Norwich, Muskingum County.

On the second Sabbath after his arrival at Norwich he attended the Methodist Episcopal Church, and heard a sermon by the Rev. Levi P. Miller, junior preacher on the circuit. On the following Sabbath he was persuaded to become a teacher in the Sunday-school of the Methodist Church, a work for which he felt himself wholly unworthy, for, although religiously trained from infancy, he had made no profession of faith in Christ, and had evidently given the subject of religion, as a personal duty, but little thought. It was not long, however, until the Rev. Mr. Miller, between whom and himself an intimacy seems to have sprung up, induced him to read Fletcher's Checks. He not only read that remarkable work, but he re-read and studied it, until, compelled, at last, by the irresistible logic of the peerless Fletcher to give up the system of doctrines in which he had been educated, and embrace the more rational, liberal, and, as he now saw, the more Scriptural theology of Arminian Methodism.

On Thanksgiving-day, 1831, he attended a prayer-meeting held in the evening in the Methodist Church, and although he had now been, for some months, an anxious inquirer after the way of salvation, he had never, up to that night, publicly avowed his desire to lead a new life.

At the close of the meeting he begged the brethren, as they were about to depart, to remain and continue in prayer, that he might, even then and there, be translated from the kingdom and power of darkness into the kingdom of God's dear Son. The meeting was continued to a late hour, young Moody himself taking charge of it, calling on one and another to pray, and finally praying himself. At the close of this meeting he felt, as he expressed it, that he had "experienced a great change," and that he had entered upon a new life; and yet he was not satisfied, because he had not received the clear witness of the Spirit that he was saved. The next morning, while in his brother's barn feeding the horses, he fell upon his knees in the oats-bin, and prayed specially and earnestly for the blessing of "assurance," of which he had heard much in Methodist meetings. While thus prostrate before God, with both hands uplifted towards heaven, "the blessing," he says, "came down upon me, and within and through and around me, like a cataract of light and love and joy and power and peace and glory! It seemed to me as if the sun had shed forth an effluence of grace and glory, and that the Word made flesh, full of grace and truth, was present, and that of His fullness I received grace for grace, which came rolling like billows from above, and swept through me with lightning-like rapidity, shedding abroad the love of God in my heart, till I comprehended with all saints what is the breadth and length and depth and height, and was made to know the love of God which passeth knowledge, and was filled with the fullness of God." "This heavenly visitation lasted," he wrote afterwards, "from six o'clock in the morning until ten, in one effulgent outpouring of the Holy Ghost. Breakfast hour came and passed unnoticed. The store seemed obliterated from my mind. Several times my unconverted brother John came down to the barn to find me in my 'rapturous amaze,' or pleading with God to awaken him also."

I give this account of Doctor Moody's conversion, somewhat in detail, as a very striking illustration of the truth that our strong and true men, both in the laity and the ministry, of that period were converted—soundly, thoroughly, and consciously converted. They were convicted of sin, withdrew from the ranks of Satan, went over to Jesus Christ, and surrendered unconditionally; and when they were saved from sin they knew it. And in this fact we may find the explanation of their power with God and man.

On Christmas, 1831, at a quarterly-meeting in Norwich, at the close of the love-feast on Sunday morning, young Moody, having first obtained the approval of his parents, united with the Methodist Episcopal Church. He now entered upon a course of reading and study, devoting his spare hours to such works as Watson's Institutes, Wesley's Sermons, Fletcher's Checks, and Clark's Commentaries. About a year after his conversion, just as he read the last page of the "Life of Rev. Jesse Lee," a voice, as he says, seemed to speak to his inner consciousness, in mandatory, emphatic tones, saying, "Go thou and do likewise!" "My first impulse," he adds, "was to cry, 'Send by whom Thou wilt send, but send not by me, O Lord!' But these thoughts sat silent on my tongue, and I was enabled to say, 'Be it unto me even as thou hast said, Behold the servant of the Lord,' and instantly a gracious and glorious baptism of the Holy Spirit came down upon me."

His license as a local preacher, given by the quarterly conference of Cambridge Circuit, Zanesville District, Ohio Conference, is dated June 15, 1833, and signed by Leroy Swormstedt, presiding elder. He was received into the Ohio Conference at the session held in Cincinnati, August 21, 1833, and sent as junior preacher to Springfield Circuit, Joshua Boucher being his colleague. His next appointment was London Circuit, and Joshua Boucher was again his colleague. In 1835 he was appointed to McKendree Chapel, Cincinnati, a very responsible and difficult position, at that time, for a young minister, but his labors were greatly blessed, and many were added to the Church. While serving this charge he was happily married January 19, 1836, to Lucretia Elizabeth Harris, a lady of rare qualifications, natural and acquired, to fill the most exacting and trying position, in many respects, which a woman can occupy—that of a minister's wife; and yet a position of untold opportunities and capabilities of usefulness and happiness. For fifty years that noble woman nobly fulfilled the vows of the marriage altar, and with such devotion to her family and Church, with such gentle and winning sweetness of spirit, with such womanly and rare tact, that when death wrenched her from her husband's side he mourned like a king disrowned and in exile.

In 1836 Dr. Moody was appointed to Wesley Chapel, Cincinnati, as junior preacher, Rev. William H. Raper being in charge. Under the labors of these pastors, assisted by the eloquent evangelist of that period, Rev. John Newland Maffitt, Wesley Chapel was visited by a revival of remarkable power, and a great multitude added to the Church, such as were being saved.

In 1837 he was appointed to Troy Circuit, with Rev. Joshua Boucher for his senior colleague a third time. This also was a year of marked success, the principal points of the circuit being greatly strengthened by gracious revivals.

His subsequent appointments, down to the breaking out of the War of the Rebellion, were: Franklin Circuit, Miami Circuit, Oxford, Lebanon, McKendree Chapel (second term), Columbus, Lancaster, Zanesville, Springfield; Raper Chapel, Dayton; Xenia, Piqua, Urbana, and Morris Chapel, Cincinnati.

It is impossible to give any thing like a detailed account of his labors and successes in these important charges, embracing, as will be seen, the leading cities of Central and Southern Ohio. The simple statement that Dr. Moody received into the Methodist Episcopal Church over eight thousand souls in fifty years indicates sufficiently the extraordinary success of his ministry.

His appointment to Oxford, the seat of Miami University, was simultaneous with that of a new President of the College. In his first sermon before the students and citizens in the College Chapel, the President felt called upon to attack the Methodists by name. At the close of the sermon, as the congregation was retiring, Mr. Moody, who was present, announced in a loud voice, "I will reply to that sermon in the Methodist Church to-night." Great was the amazement of the learned President and his friends, and almost equally great the consternation in Methodist circles, that this young stripling, now in the seventh year of his ministry, should dare, in this way, to "beard the lion in his den."

The whole community was astir that night, and when the young Methodist preacher reached his church the house was crowded, the aisles and windows occupied, and hundreds stood in the yard. Mr. Moody's masterly defense of Methodism on that occasion produced a profound and lasting impression, and although his entire term was occupied largely with the controversy thus inaugurated, he conquered a peace at last which has not been disturbed since.

In 1860 he was appointed to Morris Chapel—now St. Paul Church—Cincinnati. While serving this important charge, the war-cloud, which had been gathering for some years on our Southern horizon, burst in fury upon the land, and the nation was precipitated into the most bloody, costly, and terrific war of the age. In such a struggle against armed treason, in which the very existence of free institutions on this continent and throughout the world seemed involved in the issue, it was plainly the duty of every citizen to serve his country in whatever capacity he could most effectually contribute to the national defense.

There were those among the military and civil leaders of the day who saw in Granville Moody the qualities of a great captain. He himself, while by no means averse to military service in so righteous a cause, was unwilling to take so important a step without prayerful deliberation and the approval of his ministerial and lay brethren. He accordingly made a full statement before the Cincinnati preachers' meeting, in November, 1861, of the circumstances under which he had been invited to take command of the Seventy-fourth Ohio Regiment, and asked the advice of his brethren as to the propriety of resigning an important pastorate with a view to enter the military service.

After full consideration of the question the meeting unanimously adopted the following:

"Resolved, That as members of the Preachers' Association of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Cincinnati, we are of the opinion that Rev. Granville Moody has a providential call to the position of colonel of the Seventy-fourth Ohio Regiment, and would cordially approve of his acceptance."

Of Colonel Moody's military services it is impossible to speak now, except briefly and in general terms. "I rode by his side," says Rev. Dr. Lozier, who served as chaplain of an Iowa Regiment in the same brigade, "into the battle of Stone River, and was an eye and ear witness of many of the exploits and expressions now recorded in various war histories concerning the illustrious 'Fighting Parson.' No braver man, no truer patriot has hallowed the field of conflict with his valor and his prayers since 'the sword of the Lord and of Gideon' flashed terror among the hosts of Midian." He was struck four times with balls and painfully wounded, and had a horse killed under him in that memorable battle. The injuries sustained at that time compelled his resignation soon after, but on the recommendation of the great war secretary, Stanton, he was, on the 13th of March, 1865, brevetted brigadier-general "for distinguished services at the battle of Stone River."

On his return from the army, as soon as his health permitted, he resumed his place in the ranks of the itinerant ministry, serving out the unexpired term of the lamented Rev. John T. Mitchell, on the Cincinnati District. He was afterwards stationed successively in Piqua (second term), Ripley, Newport, Ky., and York Street, Cincinnati. He then served as presiding elder of Ripley District four years, and was subsequently stationed in Middletown, Hamilton, and Jamestown, his last charge, to which he was appointed in 1881.

In the autumn of 1882, on account of failing health, he took a supernumerary relation, and removed to his farm near Jefferson, Iowa, where he resided until his death on Saturday evening, June 4, 1887.

For a full half century, Granville Moody was one of the most conspicuous and widely known men of Ohio Methodism. He was, indeed, a born leader, and in any body of men with whom he was associated would naturally gravitate to the head.

"He was a man, take him for all in all,
We shall not look upon his like again."

He was made on purpose—sui generis—and his kind was complete in him, for such men are proverbially rare. God has a place now and then for a Granville Moody, and the man comes at the divine call.

With a towering and noble form, a head and bust for a sculptor, and a face whose whole contour was expressive of character, intelligence, and invincible will, his was indeed a physique befitting a "prince and a great man in Israel."

But Dr. Moody was not merely a man of splendid physical organization. God gave him a mind to match his body. His intellectual force was in keeping with his herculean physical strength. As bodily toil seemed never to weary him, so mental effort, the most extraordinary and prolonged, seemed never to exhaust his intellectual resources. Thoroughly educated under the vigilant eye of his scholarly father—one of the first teachers of his day—he pursued his theological and other studies with intelligent discrimination, wasting no time on books that could not aid him in his great life-work. He read little for recreation or amusement, but from every source of historical, theological, and literary lore, he gleaned with a careful hand, storing away in that tenacious memory, which was the wonder of his brethren, a wealth of apposite historical allusions, poetical quotations, and important facts, which he employed with a readiness and skill that made him one of the most effective and powerful extemporaneous speakers of his day.

As a preacher, Dr. Moody excelled in the discussion and defense of the great fundamental doctrines of religion. His theological opinions were not adopted in haste, as we have seen, but as the result of careful and conscientious study. When such a man does finally make up his mind, no wind of doctrine is likely to turn him one way or another. The great doctrines of the Gospel as expounded by Wesley and Watson and Fletcher, Dr. Moody believed without so much as the shadow of a doubt. Their truth, indeed, was a matter of inward spiritual experience. He knew God. He knew Jesus Christ. He knew the presence and power of the Holy Spirit, and his speech and his preaching were in "demonstration of the Spirit and of power."

He was too large a man to do any thing on a small scale; and so he naturally chafed somewhat under the modern demand for "sermonettes," as he wittily characterized the brief discourses of the latter-day pulpit, holding that the great themes of the Gospel could not be adequately treated in twenty-minute sermons. His own discourses, especially in the earlier years of his ministry, often occupied an hour and a half in the delivery, but were so eloquent in language, so cogent in argument, and so powerful in appeal, that his hearers took little note of time, and whether in the pulpit or the conference floor he was always sure of an attentive hearing.

When Granville Moody, after patient investigation and mature reflection, embraced the Arminian system of theology and became a Methodist, he did so without any mental reservations. He was far removed from a mere partisan in religion, being, throughout his life, liberal and catholic in his feelings, and fraternizing readily with all true believers. Yet he felt, nevertheless, that he owed supreme allegiance to the Church at whose altar he ministered.

In the memorable debate in the Ohio Conference in 1851, and in the General Conference of 1852, on the subject of pewed churches, in which he took so conspicuous a part against that system and those who supported it, it can not be doubted that he was simply true to his convictions. He believed in a literal compliance with the law as it existed, and in carrying out every part of the Discipline. And this conscientious regard to law he exhibited in all the details of his pastoral work. In every charge he served for fifty years, so far as I can learn, he endeavored faithfully to instruct the children in the Catechism, to promote a general attendance upon class-meetings, to encourage the people to observe the quarterly fasts, and, in short, to keep all the rules and not mend them.

As to his personal religious experience, I copy the following statement from his own pen, written in the fiftieth year of his ministry:

"From the memorable day, November 25, 1831, when I gave my heart to God, a divine energy has been forming me, amidst many conflicts and various experiences, to a growing conformity to God's perfect will; and upon the whole review I find that I have been putting off the Old Man of covetousness, pride, and self-will, and have been putting on the new character of humility, submission to the will of God, and love to God and man. I can attest, also, that a life of devotion to God, of self-denying and active piety has become more and more habitual and delightful, and sin, of every form, as viewed in myself or others, more and more hateful, painful, detestable, and detested.

"In consequence, I have been, and ever desire and intend to be, associated in confidence, affection, and communion with the friends and followers of Christ, devoting the powers and talents conferred upon me and divinely intrusted to me as a steward, to the advancement of Christ's kingdom.

"My contemplations of the heavenly state are becoming more habitual, my aspirations for it more fervent, and my desire for earthly things more moderate. I live, yet not I, but Christ liveth in me; and the life I now live in the flesh is a life of faith in the Son of God, who loved me and gave himself for me. Thus, by faith in Christ, my life has been progressively a life of religious decision; a life of concern and care for my own personal salvation; a life of devotion and piety in prayer and praise; a life of assurance of personal and present acceptance with God in Christ; a life of habitual communion with God; a life of cheerful submission to providential allotments; a life of laborious usefulness in the way of persuading my fellow-men to the reformation that flows from Gospel salvation; a life of patriotic devotion to my country's welfare and the perpetuation of our blood-bought liberty and privileges; a life of opposition to intemperance and Sabbath desecration, and I pray and hope that my sons and daughters may walk by the same rule; and mind the same things, and meet me in heaven."

On Sunday morning, May 29th, he left his home in company with his son, Charles, and was hurriedly driving to the Methodist church in Jefferson, where a large audience was waiting to hear him preach the memorial sermon before the George H. Thomas Post, No. 23, of the G. A. R. of Iowa. In turning a corner a tug became detached, the carriage-pole fell, causing the carriage to suddenly leave the track, while the momentum threw it over, hurling the occupants to the ground with great violence.

Dr. Moody was assisted into a house near by, and a physician hastily summoned, who at first expressed the hope that no serious injury had been sustained. But Dr. Moody, although cheerful and composed, said to his son at once, "This is my end." In a few hours after the accident he was taken to his home, and for two days no alarming or serious symptoms appeared. On the third day, however, his symptoms grew worse, developing pleuro-pneumonia of a type that baffled all medical skill, and he rapidly grew worse.

On Wednesday evening, after the accident, when the physician called and saw how grave the case had become, he said, "It will require a pretty hard struggle to pull you through, Dr. Moody." The reply with a pleasant smile, was: "Jesus said, 'Whosoever liveth and believeth on me shall never die.' I shall never die. I shall fall asleep and cease to exist here on earth, but I shall never die."

When spoken to on Thursday about the accident, and regret at its occurrence was expressed, his characteristic reply was, "Perhaps the kind Father saw that it would take some hard knocks to put me out of the world."

To his old and dear friend, Pastor Harned, of Jefferson, who was almost constantly by his side, he quoted long passages from the Catechism, promise after promise from the Bible, and verses of favorite hymns, especially the couplet from Dr. Watts:

"Thou art my soul's bright morning star,
And Thou my rising sun."

On Friday, when asked to take a stimulant, he said, "No, I do not want it," and then pointing upward, he added, "I want to go home."

Toward the last his mind seemed to dwell much on the goodly company who were awaiting him above. He named many bishops and fathers of the Church who were in heaven, and spoke of the eight thousand, who, through his ministry had been led to Christ, many of whom were now in glory to welcome him. "But, best of all whom I have known on earth, Lizzie will meet me there," referring to his saintly and now sainted wife. A little later he seemed to fix his eyes upon his Savior, dying upon the cross, and repeatedly exclaimed, "On the tree! on the tree!" This was his last connected sentence, and his last utterance, except "Lizzie," and "baby," as he gave to his newly arrived daughter and grandchild his "hail and farewell" kiss.

The final and formal funeral services were held in the Methodist Church, of Mt. Vernon, Iowa, and were in charge of Dr. Heald, pastor of the Church. All the living children of Dr. Moody were permitted to be present, which was the fulfillment of one of his most cherished wishes. Two posts of the Grand Army of the Republic were present as organizations. These acted as pall-bearers and guard of honor. The principal address was made by Rev. Dr. Joyce, of the Cincinnati Conference, who was followed by Chaplain Lozier, President King, of Cornell College, and Dr. Heald.

"Why weep for him, who having won
The bound of man's appointed years, at last
Life's blessings all enjoyed, life's labors done,
Serenely to his final rest has passed;
While the soft memory of his virtues yet
Lingers like twilight hues, when the bright sun is set?"

REV. DAVID WHITMER.

DAVID WHITMER was born in Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, March 10, 1823. His father and mother he himself describes as "poor, but industrious and virtuous." In the hope of improving their worldly circumstances, they removed in an early day to Ohio, and settled on a small farm in Clarke County. The children of such parents would naturally be trained in habits of industry, honesty, and economy. David Whitmer, from the time he could guide a plow or handle other implements of the farm, was accustomed to hard labor—a fact, no doubt, to which he owed the great physical vigor which sustained him through forty years of toil and exposure in the ranks of the itinerant ministry.

The educational advantages enjoyed in that day were certainly not of the highest, judged by modern standards, and yet the care and thoroughness with which a few elementary branches of learning were taught compensated largely for the meagerness of the course of the study. Young Whitmer had access to school privileges only in the Winter months; but so well did he improve his opportunities, that before he was of age he passed, creditably, the requisite examination and received a certificate to teach school.

While thus employed he was awakened to a sense of his sinfulness, and deeply impressed that he needed salvation, under the preaching of the eloquent blind minister, the late Anthony W. Musgrove, but did not at that time yield to the impressions made upon his mind by the Holy Spirit. The next year, 1842, under the ministry of Joseph McDowell, Joseph Newson, and Barton Lowe, who were then the associate pastors of Troy Circuit, a glorious revival of religion at Tremont resulted in about a hundred conversions and additions to the Church. Among the number gathered into the fold of Christ at that meeting was David Whitmer. He was made a class-leader soon after his conversion, and, impressed no doubt with his "gifts, graces, and usefulness" in that position, the Church licensed him to exhort, and then to preach, all within the first year of his Christian life.

In 1844 he was admitted into the Ohio Conference as a traveling preacher, and appointed to Fairfield Circuit. His subsequent appointments were Fletcher, Lewisburg, Camden; Christie Chapel, Cincinnati; North Bend, Batavia, Augusta, Ky., West Union, Highland, Middletown, Winchester, Fletcher (second term), Addison, Fremont, King's Creek, Mingo and Mt. Tabor, Jamestown, Lynchburg, Leesburg, New Burlington, and Union.

Of the forty years of his active ministry, twenty-nine were spent in or adjoining three counties—viz, Champaign, Highland, and Greene—showing that where he was best known his services were in greatest demand. In addition to the regular pastoral work above mentioned, Brother Whitmer acted as Financial Agent of the Hillsboro College for three years, rendering most effective and important service in behalf of that institution of learning.

On the 15th of May, 1849, Brother Whitmer was married to Miss Hannah J. Fox, of Butler County, Ohio, of whom he says in his journal: "She proved to me a helpmate indeed—intelligent, pious, talented, and prudent, and withal very devoted to the one great work of soul-saving." Her itinerant career, however, was a brief one. While on Highland Circuit, and after a happy married life of a few short years, she passed triumphantly home, leaving two small children, the youngest but eighteen months old. Brother Whitmer was again married July 20, 1857, to Miss Amanda C. Gardner, of Clarksville, O., of whom he writes in his journal as follows: "A married life now of over a quarter of a century has only confirmed me in the conviction that no one else living could so well have supplied the light and life of our former happy home. In all our various itinerant trials and privations, I never knew her to shed a tear on account of them; but she has hushed into stillness many a sigh that struggled to escape from my own heart. O, how often, on bended knees, have I thanked God for such a wife!"

Concerning his religious experience, Brother Whitmer's own words are the best testimony. He wrote: "Of the genuineness of my conversion I have never had a doubt. The direct witness of the Holy Spirit to this greatest event of my life, I have never lost. Early in my ministry I sought the blessing of heart purity, which I professed to find, and which I did not hesitate to preach. But meeting unexpected discouragement, I fell into the habit of preaching the doctrine only occasionally and of professing it timidly; and so many years passed, until the first National Camp-meeting was held at Urbana. Here I embraced the first opportunity to seek a restoration of the witness of the Spirit to this glorious attainment, which I trust I have not since entirely lost, and yet have not as fully lived it as I ought to have done. My convictions of duty, as regards myself and others, are very strong and decided, and my own life has not always measured up to my ideal. And yet so far as in me lies my whole being is consecrated to God, and I can not doubt that he accepts my offering. I have no confidence in the flesh, in any good works I have done or may do, but I have implicit trust, unbounded faith in the great Atonement, and feel that here I can rest, and do rest, my salvation both now and hereafter."

Of his call to the ministry, Brother Whitmer had no more doubt than of his conversion. His mother died while he was laboring on his first circuit, and it seemed for a time that duty required him to relinquish the ministry, and devote himself to the care of the family. But while in an agony of doubt and suspense on this subject, the voice of God seemed to speak to him, almost audibly, "Woe is me if I preach not the Gospel!" producing such an impression on his mind that he never again wavered on the question of giving his whole life to the ministry.

After forty years of itinerant life this is his record: "With all the peculiar trials, and sometimes hardships, of the itinerancy, especially when prosecuted with a large family of children, we have found so much comfort and joy to offset our trials, that the latter are not worthy to be named. Then the rest that remains will by and by follow all our weary toil; and what a rest it will be! Most of my early acquaintances have gone to their reward—my first elders and colleagues, and the venerable bishops who ordained me—not lost, but gone before. O, what a meeting of all these!"

As showing the habits of rigid economy formed in his early life, it may be mentioned that his total income from salary, during the four and a half years of his unmarried life, was $425. Out of this meager sum he purchased a traveling outfit, including a buggy, procured a library, clothing, etc., and had some means left with which to begin housekeeping in the fifth year of his ministry. It is greatly to the credit of Brother Whitmer, and an evidence of remarkable financial skill, that he was able at the close of his effective ministerial work to procure, out of the savings of forty years, a comfortable home for himself and family.

Brother Whitmer was an able and successful preacher of the Gospel. His sermons were plain, methodical, evangelical, and often powerful. He was a fearless defender of the faith, and was equally bold in denouncing sin—not merely indulging in glittering generalities, but calling things by their right names, and attacking the enemy in his strongholds. During the Civil War he was intensely patriotic and fearlessly outspoken; so much so, indeed, that at one appointment, on one of his fields of labor, it was thought necessary by some of the brethren to go armed to the church to defend the preacher, whose life had been threatened by persons who sympathized with the Rebellion.

On the subject of temperance he was equally decided in his convictions and straightforward in his course. "I first witnessed the work of the Woman's Crusade in Xenia," he says in his journal, "and it called forth all the sympathy of my being, and ever had my most hearty moral and material support. I never took charge of our little ones more cheerfully than when my wife was out in the work of the Crusade. The Lord hasten the day when constitutional legal prohibition shall be enacted all over the land! And I will help to answer my own prayer, grace enabling me, with voice, and vote, and purse. Having witnessed the overthrow of slavery, and contributed, indirectly at least, to that end, I hope to live to labor for and witness the overthrow of the giant evil of intemperance!"

In 1884 Brother Whitmer closed his fortieth year of active ministerial service, having that year completed his term of three years on Union Circuit, his last regular appointment. He purchased a beautiful home in Xenia, where, with his family, he expected, and no doubt greatly desired, to spend a few restful and quiet years in the evening of life. But even then the doors of the nobler mansion above were opening to his advancing feet, and he dwells now in "the house not made with hands."

The last record in Brother Whitmer's journal was made November 22, 1886, about six months before his death, and is in these words: "Complete rest from labor promised for a time to be quite an advantage to my impaired health, but now that expectation fails. I am oscillating between hope and despair as to my recovery, but with the star of hope in the ascendant. Better still—yes, infinitely better—I have that hope that is as an anchor of the soul, sure and steadfast, entering into that within the veil. O, what a comfort, in affliction as well as health, to feel that one has an inheritance in two worlds—the promise of the life that now is, and of that which is to come! May this ever and increasingly be my blessed experience! Then for me "to live will be Christ, and to die will be gain."

David Whitmer was, in a high degree, a conscientious man; one, too, whose conscience was as true to duty as the needle to the pole. He had in him the stuff of which martyrs are made. He could have died for Christ, but could never have betrayed him. He walked daily in the pathway marked out by the Ten Commandments. His life was a beautiful illustration of the religion he preached, and I doubt if any man ever lived in this world sixty-four years who spoke fewer words which, "dying, he could wish to blot." Who ever heard David Whitmer speak unkindly or uncharitably of any one? To whose eyes did he ever bring a tear, save one of penitence? How careful was he to guard the reputation of his ministerial brethren! I have looked through the record of his life, written by himself, in which he refers to the colleagues and presiding elders of a ministry of forty years, and there are kind and pleasant words for every one of them.

For several weeks he was confined to his room, and generally to his bed, by a complication of disorders, which baffled the skill of the best physicians. In the midst of his sufferings his soul was kept in perfect peace. I was often with him, and his language, in prospect of death, was always that of holy triumph. He gradually grew worse until the morning of Thursday, June 23, 1887, when, surrounded by a loving household, a faithful wife, and loyal and affectionate children, he quietly breathed his last, and "was not, for God took him."

J. F. MARLAY.

DR. RICHARD BRANDRIFF.

REV. RICHARD BRANDRIFF was born in Cumberland County, N. J., February 3, 1803, and died in Piqua, Ohio, July 16, 1887, aged eighty-four years, five months, and thirteen days.

His great-grandfather, Timothy Brandriff, came to this country, from England, in the early part of the eighteenth century, and about the year 1715 was married to a lady named Hughes. Their son, who was also named Timothy, grandfather of the subject of this memoir, was born about 1750, and with his parents, who lived in New Jersey, was among the first Methodists in this country. Jesse Brandriff, son of the above, and father of Rev. Richard Brandriff, was born May 12, 1777, and married a lady named Rhoda Garrison. In 1805 the family moved to Ohio, and settled near Cumminsville, in the vicinity of Cincinnati, where they assisted in building the old stone meeting-house on the ground where Wesley Chapel now stands. Here the family resided until about the year 1830, when they removed to a farm near Bethel Church, Clermont County, Ohio, where the mother died July 14, 1856, in the seventy-second year of her age, and where the father also died January 10, 1860, in the eighty-third year of his age. Both had lived in the fear of God many years, and both died in the triumphs of a living faith.

Rev. Richard Brandriff was united in marriage with Ann C. Robinson at Troy, Ohio, October 6, 1825, with whom he lived most happily until July 3, 1887, a period of almost sixty-two years, when the faithful partner of his youth, manhood, and old age was removed by death. At the time of their marriage the officiating minister prayed that they might live to a good old age, and die together. This prayer was quite literally answered, as they both lived to be more than fourscore years old, and there were but thirteen days between their deaths.

Unto this union eight children were given, one son and seven daughters. The son and four daughters preceded their parents to the spirit world, while three daughters, Mrs. Shellabarger, Mrs. Durant, and Miss Augusta Brandriff, remain and were present at the last sad rites. It had been the privilege of these daughters to be with their parents during their last illness, and with loving ministries to smooth their way to the line that divides between the seen and the unseen.

October 6, 1875, Dr. Brandriff and his wife celebrated their golden wedding, surrounded by their own family and many devoted friends.

Little did the aged couple and friends on that happy occasion think that twelve more years would be added to their already lengthened days.

The story of Dr. Brandriff's religious life and ministerial labors can be best related in his own words. March 16, 1873, he made the following record:

DR. BRANDRIFF'S BIOGRAPHY.

"I, Richard Brandriff, was born February 3, 1803, in Cumberland County, New Jersey. About this time my parents embraced religion, and united with the Methodist Episcopal Church. In 1805 my parents removed to Ohio, and settled near Cumminsville, in the vicinity of Cincinnati. There I attended church in the old stone church, before and after its extensions and its wings. In this place are my earliest recollection of religious impressions, for I attended the prayer-meetings regularly when a very small boy. On the 8th of June, 1817, at a camp-meeting, eleven miles below Cincinnati, I embraced religion, and some two weeks afterwards united with the Methodist Episcopal Church, in the old stone church where Wesley Chapel now stands, Rev. Wesley Cummins being the minister. A year or so afterwards I commenced exhorting occasionally. The quarterly conference hearing of it, soon sent me a license to exhort. In August, 1821, I was licensed to preach at a district conference held at a camp-meeting near Lawrenceburg, Ind., and recommended to the Ohio Conference for admission into that body as a traveling preacher on trial. The Ohio Conference sat that year in Lebanon, Warren County, Ohio. I was received and appointed to the Oxford Circuit, with Moses Crume in charge. In 1822 and 1823 I traveled the Greenville Circuit, with Moses Crume as supernumerary. In 1823-24, traveled the London Circuit, with James Collard in charge; 1824-25, the Piqua and Troy Circuit, with Arthur Elliot in charge. In 1825-26, traveled the Piqua Circuit, with Samuel P. Shaw as the junior preacher. In 1826-27, traveled the Salt Circuit, having no colleague. In 1827-28, traveled the Wilmington Circuit, having no colleague. In 1828-29, traveled the Piqua Circuit, with Rev. Wm. H. Raper in charge. In 1829-30, rested and remained on a farm near Troy, Ohio. In 1831-32, traveled the Mad River Circuit, which included Urbana, Springfield, Mechanicsburg, and a large extent of the surrounding country, with Wm. H. Raper and Joseph J. Hill as colleagues, Mr. Raper being in charge. In 1832-33, traveled the Urbana Circuit, being in charge and having a Brother Johnson for a supply, the Mad River Circuit having been divided. In 1833, took a superannuated relation to the Ohio Conference, and removed to Troy, Ohio, and commenced a small drug business, as my health had so far failed as to prevent doing full work on the circuits of those days. This relation I sustained for several years.

"In May, 1836, I listened to the anti-slavery discussion in the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Cincinnati, and commenced examining the subject, and shortly afterwards commenced an effort to eradicate the evil from the Church; but finding this impracticable, in 1842, withdrew with twenty-three others, and formed the Wesleyan Methodist Church, and sustained the same relation to the new Church that I did to the old one, that of a superannuated minister. In this relation I labored until, in the providence of God, through the war and the Proclamation of Emancipation by Abraham Lincoln, slavery ceased to exist in the nation, and as a consequence could not exist in the Church.

"And as a result of the absence of slavery in the Church, and by the invitation of the Bishops, expressed at their meeting in Erie, Penn., met in Adrian, Michigan, in convention with some of the founders of the Wesleyan Methodist Church, such as Drs. Prindle, Lee, Matlock, and others, resolved to return to the Methodist Episcopal Church, which I did at Urbana, Ohio, at Conference in 1867, in connection with several other ministers. While a superannuated minister of the Methodist Episcopal Church and of the Wesleyan Methodist Church, I preached often and all that my health would endure. As to usefulness, I leave that to others to judge. My record is on high. I have always tried to follow my honest convictions of right, and my failures have been in the completeness or fullness of devotion, and yet there has been no labor so great, or sacrifice so heavy, I have not been willing to make at the call of my Master. I rely only on the sacrificial offering of the Lord Jesus Christ for my present and eternal salvation."

A memoir of Dr. Brandriff would be noticeably incomplete, that did not call special attention to the part he took in the two great reforms of his day—anti-slavery and temperance. The former enlisted his sympathies and efforts in the earlier, and the latter in the later period of his life.

In his heart of hearts he hated slavery, and he threw himself into the movement against that institution with remarkable self-sacrifice and energy. His strong anti-slavery principles became impatient of the conservative attitude of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and caused his severance, for a time, from that body, as already narrated. When, by the nation's sword, slavery was abolished, he rejoiced with exceeding joy, and he was at once ready to aid in healing the wounds that the war had made. While he hated slavery, he pitied those that held slaves as well as the enslaved. He regarded emancipation as being quite as great a blessing to the slaveholders as to the slaves.

The question of slavery settled in righteousness, he became an ardent temperance reformer. His sympathies were deeply moved by the sufferings entailed by the drink habit, and with a just indignation he condemned the drink-traffic. He was one of the few men who took a leading, earnest part in the anti-slavery movement, who also engaged earnestly in the movement against the liquor-traffic. Most men exhaust themselves in one great battle, and are incapable of girding themselves for another; and so we find that but few of the anti-slavery reformers took hold earnestly of the movement for the overthrow of that "gigantic crime of crimes," the traffic in intoxicating beverages. The subject of this memoir was a notable exception to this rule. He enlisted in the war against King Alcohol with all the zeal that characterized his opposition to slavery, and to his dying hour his zeal did not for one moment flag. He would no more act with an organization that would indorse the drink-traffic than he would one that indorsed slavery. He would no more compromise with the former than with the latter. To the last he was anxious to know how the battle was going; and when he could no longer read the news for himself, he requested others to read to him. He frequently said, "It is prohibition and heaven with me"—a quaint way of saying that he would contend for the overthrow of the liquor-traffic while living, and then in heaven he would rest from his labors. But a few days before he passed to his reward he said: "I have lived to see slavery abolished, and I have sometimes thought that I might live to see the liquor-traffic abolished, but I suppose I will die without the sight. But when I get to heaven I will still be interested in the progress of the movement, and rejoice when it is victorious." Brave old hero! He fought to the end of one great battle, and fought in another until he was called to his reward. He would die on the field, but surrender, never.

As a citizen and business man, Dr. Brandriff was upright and honest. Conscientiousness was a very marked characteristic of his conduct. He, no doubt, often erred in judgment, but not in purpose. "To do justly, and love mercy, and to walk humbly with God," was the purpose of his life.

As a husband he was affectionate and devoted, and as a father kind and indulgent.

While he was broadly catholic in his feelings towards all Christians, he was a most pronounced Arminian in theology. He believed the doctrines of the Church, and loved to preach them.

As a preacher he was deliberate, concise, and logical. His perorations were frequently very effective. Though so long on the superannuated list he preached as often as his physical strength would allow, and always to the edification of his hearers.

His religious experience, though seldom exultant, was deep and satisfactory. As the end drew near it proved to be genuine. There was not a cloud in his sky, nor a doubt in his heart.

When first confined to his room, he said: "I think it is about the right time for me to die; I am in my eighty-fifth year, and have lived about as long as a man ought to live. My faculties are well preserved and I had better go before I become a burden to my friends." On a bright morning he said: "This is a glorious morning, but there is a more glorious one just a little farther on." Again he said: "I have been an unprofitable servant, but I have tried to be true to my conscience and my God." Sunday morning, June 19th, he said: "I have but a little time to stay here, but it is all right—all right if I go; all right if I stay." June 21st, speaking of the temperance reform and the deep interest he felt in it, he said: "I am a little better and may stay here some time. This is my world as long as I am in it, and I am interested in all that is going on in it. After a little while I will be in another and a better world, and then that will be my world, and I will be interested in what goes on there." Sabbath morning, July 10th, I called on him just before going to my pulpit, and as I was leaving I said: "Have you any message to send to the people of Greene Street this morning?" He replied instantly: "Tell them I am nearing home, that I am peaceful and happy, and that it is all right."

His daughter, Mrs. Shellabarger, quoted Phœbe Cary's lines:

"One sweetly solemn thought
Comes to me o'er and o'er:
I am nearer my home to-day
Than I have ever been before."

To which he responded very promptly, "Yes, that is very beautiful; that is my condition."

The last week of his life was filled with much suffering, but there was no murmuring. His mind remained clear until the very last moment. Just before he passed into the unseen, and when the power of speech was gone, he indicated by a look of recognition that he knew his faithful daughters who were about him, and then with a beaming countenance, looking upward as though seeing some one whose appearing gave him special delight, he peacefully closed his eyes to earthly scenes, and opened them in heaven.

A. B. LEONARD.

REV. WILLIAM YOUNG, D. D.

REV. WM. YOUNG, D. D., was born at Staunton, Augusta County, Virginia, on the 26th of June, 1807. He died at his residence at Loveland, Ohio, August 25, 1887.

His boyhood was spent in his native State, where he acquired a good English education. In 1826 he left home and came to Ohio, and engaged in school-teaching for three or four years.

He was married the first time to Miss Margaret Claspill at Lancaster, Ohio, on the 5th day of July, 1832. The fruit of this marriage was one son, the Rev. Wm. McKendree Young, who died in 1860, and Mrs. Elizabeth Rachel Copelan, the wife of George W. Copelan. With his first wife he lived over forty-eight years. She died December 10, 1880. The last twelve years of her life were years of the deepest affliction and sorrow. During all this time Dr. Young proved his undying love by ceaseless attention, tireless ministration, and unfaltering fidelity to his afflicted wife.

He was married a second time, August 8, 1882, to Mrs. Nancy Branch, who now, after five years of happy union with the deceased, survives him in deep bereavement.

Dr. Young was eminently happy in his domestic life and home. He dearly loved his family. When the shadows fell upon his home in the long and trying illness of his first wife, he maintained a sublime faith in God.

While greatly afflicted, Brother Young felt that God's designs were most beneficent, and that all things should work together for his good, because he loved God. After about a quarter of a century of itinerant life, with the usual incidents and experiences thereof, he moved to Mt. Washington in 1857, which, in some sense, has been his home for the last thirty years, although he has frequently moved to other points for short periods, as his work required. Here he spent many pleasant hours with friends and neighbors. It is not strange that he was almost grieved to leave it, when he removed to the pleasant home he had purchased at Loveland, and that in death he should turn his eyes to it again, and desire to be buried where he had so long lived.

In giving a brief outline of his conviction and conversion, we depend upon "extracts from his diary." He says: "From my youth I was the subject of deep religious impressions. God strove with me powerfully. I have been led, particularly when afflicted, to pray to God, and form resolutions to serve him; but, on recovery, through temptation and the corruption of the heart, I would forget my good resolutions, neglect prayer, and relapse into my former condition. I, however, always found it a bitter thing to sin against God. I never enjoyed any real peace or happiness while I was living in a state of hostility to God's government. All the pursuits which promised me happiness, and by which I was led into various practices of vice and folly always disappointed me. I would be just ready to grasp the anticipated enjoyments when they would evade me, and leave me the painful disappointment and remorse. I remained in this unhappy condition till the Fall of 1826, when it pleased God to awaken me more powerfully at a camp-meeting held on Jennings Branch. Then and there I resolved to seek God with all my heart, and give myself to him forever. I went into the altar and cried to God for mercy nearly all night, with little effect. A few weeks later I united with the society, but as yet had no religion. My distress of mind became so great I had no rest day nor night."

Without quoting all his experiences, as he struggled for a long time without avail, praying in the grove, in the barn, and shut up in his room, being wretched and miserable beyond expression, at times tempted to give up in despair, then resolving to persevere till mercy should be found, we notice the result as given in his diary:

"My father came to me and asked if I was sick. I gave him no answer, but wept. He then asked if I was troubled in mind. I told him I was. He then proposed to send for old Rev. Patterson, a local preacher, in whom I had great confidence, to pray for me. I consented. And here for nearly two days I earnestly, with tears, sought the Lord, and, blessed be his holy name, he heard and answered my prayer. He forgave my sins and delivered me from guilt and misery. The change was not as powerful as I expected, but after a while, as I was singing his praise, I became exceedingly happy, and realized that he was mine and I was his."

Soon after his conversion, he felt that he was called of God to preach the Gospel. Of this call he says:

"About a year after my conversion, I became deeply impressed with a sense of the duty of calling sinners to repentance. This conviction continued day and night, but I could not think it possible that such a weak and ignorant youth as I was could ever undertake such an important work. Having previously, by some means, lost some ground in religion, the impression was the more unwelcome. I shunned the cross, which soon brought on me great heaviness of soul. I at once became deeply afflicted in mind. I realized no satisfaction in any business. I diligently used the ordinary means of grace, and prayed several times every day, but had no inward peace or enjoyment in religion. I came to wish that I had never tried to be religious, and, at other times, that I was in some place where no one knew me. Being timid and bashful, I kept these things to myself, and no doubt my friends thought strange of my course, but they were unacquainted with the condition of my mind. About this time I left home and took a journey to the western country, hardly knowing whither I went. Fortunately I spent the following Winter in Hillsboro, Ohio, where God in his providence opened the way so plain before me, that I could no longer hesitate or resist. I resolved, God being my helper, I would take up my cross and preach the Gospel. Accordingly, with fear and trembling, I engaged in the work. I was licensed to exhort and to preach, without solicitation on my part. God has, in some good degree, owned and blessed my labors. I resolved that this 'work should make my heart rejoice,' and in it

'Spend the remnant of my days.'"

Thus we have his own account of his call to the ministry. During all his long life of service, so far as we know, he never doubted that he was called of the Spirit of God to the office and work of the ministry. This conviction of a divine call gives strength in weakness and adversity, support in temptation and trouble, hope in despair, and enthusiasm in grappling with God's enemies, to rescue the perishing.

In 1828 he was licensed as an exhorter by Rev. James Quinn; in August, 1829, recommended by the society at Bainbridge, Ross County, O., to the Quarterly Meeting Conference, held at Rattlesnake Camp-meeting, to receive license to preach; was examined at the said Conference by the presiding elder, Rev. John Collins, and license granted as a local preacher. During December, 1829, he was appointed by the presiding elder, Rev. David Young, to Athens Circuit, to fill the place of Rev. J. M. Trimble, who had resigned on account of ill health. September, 1830, at the session of the Ohio Annual Conference, held at Lancaster, he was received on trial, and appointed as junior preacher on Zanesville Circuit. In 1831 he was appointed to Lancaster as junior preacher, with Rev. Z. Connell preacher in charge. In 1832 he was ordained deacon by Bishop Emory, and appointed to Marietta Circuit as junior preacher; 1833, appointed to Portsmouth, preacher in charge; 1834, ordained an elder by Bishop Soule, and appointed to Charleston Circuit, Va., and returned there in 1835; February 22, 1836, was appointed by Bishop Soule presiding elder of Lancaster District; 1836, presiding elder of Charleston (Va.) District; September 27, 1837, Urbana; 1838, Xenia; 1839 and 1840, Springfield; 1841, Piqua; 1842 and 1843, Fourth Street Charge, Cincinnati (Brimstone Corner); 1844, Zanesville; 1845, agent of the Ohio Wesleyan University and the Cincinnati Female College; 1846, agent of the Cincinnati Female College; 1847, Marietta; 1848 and 1849, Eastern Charge, Chillicothe; 1850 and 1851, Park Street, Cincinnati; 1852 and 1853, Bethel, Cincinnati; 1854, agent of American Tract Society; 1855-8, presiding elder Georgetown District; 1859-61, presiding elder East Cincinnati District; 1862-3, Christie Chapel; 1864-5, Amelia Circuit; 1866-7, Troy; 1868-70, Lebanon; 1871-1872, Red Lion and Springboro; 1873, Morrow; 1874-5-6, McLean, Cincinnati; 1877-8, Pendleton, Cincinnati; 1879, McKendree, Cincinnati; 1880, City Missionary, Cincinnati; 1881, Loveland; 1882-3, Winton Place, Cincinnati; 1884-6, financial agent of the Preacher's Relief Society; making continuous effective service from 1829 to 1887—a period of fifty-seven years, during which he received appointments from the Bishop.

He was four times elected a delegate to the General Conference, of which he was a member in 1856, 1860, 1864, and 1868. He has been Conference Trustee for very many years, and the Treasurer of the Preacher's Relief Society from its organization to the day of his death.

He had the courage of his convictions. Of course he had enemies. During the decline and increasing illness of his wife he resided for several years at Lebanon, while he served Red Lion, Springboro, and Morrow. Much of the time while serving these charges he spent at home. While at Morrow, he made himself odious to the liquor-traffic by sustaining the noble Christian women in the Crusade. He was so active and outspoken as to incur the anger and bitterest hatred of the saloonists. His life was threatened several times. He was not frightened, and did not abate his efforts against their traffic. The room he occupied was in the second story of a building located on the main street of the town. His writing-desk was near to the window, in full view of the people in front. As feeling increased, his enemies prepared to put their oft-repeated threats into execution, unknown to him or any of his friends. As was his custom, one evening he went home to be with his sick wife. The following morning, when he returned to his room, he found that several shots had been fired the night before through the window in front of his desk. From the direction the bullets took, he evidently would have been killed had he been there as usual. The aim was well taken, but a kind Providence had interfered in his behalf.

During his late illness, he was frequently visited by brethren in the ministry. To these he indicated his readiness to live or die. He said, "For to me to live is Christ, and to die is gain." His end was peaceful and serene.

He has ere this joined the great company of sainted ones "before the throne." What greetings with his compeers in the ministry he has already had in the better land—men of God, with whom for many long years he has fought in the Lord's army, "contending for the faith once delivered to the saints!"

Dr. Young bore his afflictions with great patience. He expressed a desire to recover, because there was so much to be done for the Church and the world, and he wanted to live to do his share. Yet if the Lord should call him, he was ready. He carefully and methodically arranged all his temporal affairs. He had given himself to God for time and eternity early in life, and had never removed his cause out of his hands, and hence had no fear in regard to the life beyond.

On the 14th of August he called the family around his bed and said to them for the first time, "I now realize that the time of my departure is near at hand," and then gave instruction as to his funeral, and gave advice to each member of his family. On the 23d of August he raised his hand and called on all around his bedside, "Down on your knees, and I will pray," and placing his hands in an attitude of prayer, said, "O, Lord," and then after a moment, "Jesus," and never uttered another word, but remained conscious, though unable to speak, until an hour before he sweetly and peacefully passed over the stream to dwell in the mansions above. He could say:

"Jesus my only hope thou art,
Strength of my failing flesh and heart;
O, could I catch a smile from thee,
And drop into eternity!"

Thus, with "Jesus" on his lips and as the only hope of his soul, this father in Israel passed away.

In this brief memoir we shall attempt no proper analysis of the ability or estimate of Dr. Young as a minister of the Gospel, only to say that he was a man of marked character and more than ordinary ability. He had clear and deep convictions, great emotions, stentorian voice, and the unction of the Holy Ghost—an extensive reader, a close observer, a sound theologian, a forceful speaker, and in his day belonged to the thundering legion.

He was a man of God, and had a great soul, and seemed conscious that he had a great mission from God to a perishing world. With this inspiration he went into the whitened fields, and with a powerful arm gathered sheaves for the Master. His record is on high. C. W. KETCHAM.

MRS. DEBORAH S. SHARP.

MRS. DEBORAH S. SHARP was born in Virginia, April 9, 1802. Her father, Rev. Thornton Fleming, was an itinerant Methodist preacher, first a member of the Baltimore and afterward of the Pittsburg Conference. The deceased grew up to womanhood in the active itinerancy, and knew well its hardships in pioneer days. Yet she deliberately gave herself to this as her life-work, when at Uniontown, Pa., in the year 1825, she became the wife of Rev. David Sharp, late of the Cincinnati Conference. Patiently and lovingly she walked by her husband's side, sharing his joys, privations, and sorrows for a period of nearly forty years, until April 21, 1865, when he fell asleep in Jesus.

She was the mother of five children, but one of whom survives—Dr. Wm. T. Sharp, of Springfield, Ohio—who tenderly cared for her until she entered into rest. The only daughter, Miss Mary A. Sharp, a young woman of rare graces of person, mind, and heart, was cheerfully given to the same blessed work, and became the faithful wife of Rev. Wm. B. Moler, of the Cincinnati Conference. This most happy union continued a little less than one year, when God called her to the companionship of the blest in heaven.

In her religious experience Mother Sharp was calm, serene, and clear. She was not ecstatic, but there was a sweet peace and quiet, holy joy lighting up the path where the shadows of evening had fallen that was beautiful to behold. Calmly and peacefully she passed to her rest, December 18, 1886, at the advanced age of nearly eighty-five years.

Another of the golden links that connect the present with the pioneer days of Methodism in Ohio is broken. Few remain among us to-day; but while the question is on our lips, "The fathers and mothers, where are they?" the Church they loved, and for which they toiled, sacrificed, and suffered remains a glorious inheritance into which we, their children, have entered, charged with the responsibility to preserve it uncorrupted, and send it down the pathway of the ages with widening circles of influence, until the world shall be redeemed to God by the power of the Gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ.

MRS. MARTHA B. BLACK.

IN Washington, D. C., Sabbath evening, January 16, 1887, Martha B. Black, for twenty-two years the beloved and loving wife of Rev. William H. Black, a member of this Conference, entered within the veil into her heavenly home.

Sister Black was a daughter of Daniel Rice and Elizabeth Bullock. More than forty-seven years before she ascended to her crowning she was born in Mason County, Kentucky. At the early age of thirteen she was converted. She at once united with the Methodist Episcopal Church, remaining a useful, happy member of the same through all her after life. March 9, 1865, while he was yet a chaplain in the United States army, she was married to her now bereaved husband. The ensuing Summer she was introduced into the work of a Methodist traveling preacher's wife in Louisville, Ky., where, for two years, her husband was pastor. The next four years he was presiding elder on Green River District. She often accompanied him around the district, where she was always a welcome and honored guest. Then for two years their pastoral life was spent in Main Street Methodist Episcopal Church, Covington, Kentucky.

In 1873 Brother Black was transferred to the Cincinnati Conference, filling, successively, Port Union, three years, South Charleston, Troy, and Fairfield, each two years. In these later, as in those earlier, charges Sister Black's influence was most salutary. She was an earnest, effective Christian worker in very many lines. During my incumbency of the Dayton District my quarterly visits to Brother Black's charges were highly enjoyed by me, and in no small degree Sister Black's loving, kindly spirit and presence contributed to such enjoyment.

Four children came to bless their home. Two of them were removed in childhood. Pearl, a young man of eighteen, and Lillie, a girl of fourteen years, remain. The last four and a half years were spent in Washington. August, 1885, Sister Black was stricken with paralysis of the hands, attended and followed by acute neuralgic rheumatism, causing extreme suffering. Sometimes, for brief periods, this suffering slightly unbalanced her mind. But for the last few months preceding death her mind was clear, self-poised, and steady. No pain, however severe, ever weakened her faith or lowered the tone of her piety. The last year of life her suffering was specially and terribly intense, confining her to her bed and reducing her to almost utter helplessness.

While Sister Black's whole life was beautiful, the closing years were radiant with the visions of a triumphant faith and were filled with holy peace, proving the entire adequacy of Christ's grace for the extremest need. Most of the Methodist pastors in Washington and many other Christians visited her during her long illness and prayed at her bedside. All who were thus privileged bore testimony to her sublime faith, her sweet serenity, her full assurance of hope unto the end. A few tributes are submitted:

Rev. Dr. Riley, presiding elder in Washington, says: "Her death was one of singular and glorious triumph."

Rev. C. H. Richardson, her pastor in McKendree Church, says: "From March, 1886, when I found Mrs. Black an invalid and a great sufferer, with the shadow of death upon her, to January 16, 1887, her spiritual triumph was unabated. Sometimes her soul rose to transports of delight. When the closing hour came she was so fully conscious of the presence of Jesus that she could hardly realize that death was at hand. She was greatly surprised that death could be marked by such sweet and victorious assurances from God."

An intimate lady friend, who had long known and loved Mrs. Black, and was with her constantly during the last week of life, gives this testimony. It is valuable, as showing the riches of grace as witnessed from her point of view: "How often I have wished you could have seen her; so calm and peaceful was she on that Sabbath sunset hour when she left us to go to her endless home! I never witnessed such a scene. She said to her pastor, 'They tell me I am dying; but it is so easy I can hardly believe it death. If I am dying, all is well.' I said to her, 'How happy you are! You are almost home.' She replied, 'Yes! all is right; not a cloud; not a shadow; Jesus is with me.' When the final hour came it seemed no more trouble for her to leave family and friends than for a mother to say good-bye to her children when leaving them for a day. In her last moment she could shout victory! victory! through the blood of the Lamb. She said to me, 'You and I will talk about this precious, blessed day in eternity.' Sabbath morning she sent for my unsaved daughter, and talked so sweetly about her coming to Christ and meeting her in heaven, that I believe her words will lead my daughter into a holy life."

From her husband I gather the following: "About an hour before her death I inquired, 'Dear Mattie, is it bright on the other side?' She replied, 'O yes, brighter and brighter.' We had often spoken to each other of Bishop Gilbert Haven's remark, when he was dying, that there was no river there for him to cross. Referring to this, I said, 'What about the river, Mattie?' She answered, 'There is no river here at all. It is just to close the eyes here to open them in heaven. My sister, thirty years ago, when the death angel came to her, said, 'This is the happiest hour of my life.' And I, too, can say, if I am dying, this is the happiest hour of my life. It is the easiest thing in the world to die. I am just as happy as an angel.' Her pastor inquired, 'Is your faith strong in the Lord Jesus?' Her reply was, 'Yes, indeed; Jesus has cared for me all this time and he will carry me safely through.' This rapturous hope and joy continued to the very last."

It is a cheering confirmation of the Gospel our brother has so long preached, that his precious wife gave such full proof of its power, when the solemn portals of eternity were opening to receive her spirit. "Verily, there is a reward for the righteous."

THOMAS H. PEARNE.

MRS. ANN C. BRANDRIF.

ANN C. BRANDRIF, daughter of Alexander and Anna Robinson, was born in Berkeley County, Virginia, May 27, 1801, and departed this life July 3, 1887, aged eighty-six years, one month, and six days. Her father and mother were both born in this country, but her grandfather emigrated here from Ireland, and her grandmother's ancestors from England.

Mrs. Brandriff's parents were Presbyterians, by whom she was carefully reared, receiving her education at the academy in Martinsburg, West Virginia. After the death of her parents, she joined her two sisters, who were living in Ohio. October 6, 1825, she was united in marriage in Troy, Ohio, with Rev. Richard Brandriff, who survived her but thirteen days.

Nearly twelve years ago, October 6, 1875, surrounded with children, grandchildren, great-grandchildren, friends and neighbors, she celebrated her golden wedding. Her married life extended over a period of almost sixty-two years. She was the mother of eight children—one son and seven daughters—five of whom, the son and four daughters, preceded her to the home above, while three daughters, Mrs. Shellabarger, Mrs. Durant, and Miss Augusta Brandriff, survive her, all of whom were permitted to minister to their mother in the closing period of her life.

Mrs. Brandriff possessed a happy, hospitable, generous disposition, qualities that blended into a symmetrical and beautiful character. As wife and mother, she was devoted, tender, thoughtful, cheerful, and exemplary. She knew how to make home happy, dispense hospitality with grace, and to be generous without ostentation. But few of her sex have more beautifully illustrated the character of the "virtuous woman" described in the last chapter of Proverbs than has she: "The heart of her husband doth safely trust in her, so that he shall have no need of spoil. She will do him good and not evil all the days of her life. She stretcheth out her hand to the poor; yea, she reacheth forth her hands to the needy. Her husband is known in the gates, when he sitteth among the elders of the land. She openeth her mouth with wisdom; and in her tongue is the law of kindness. She looketh well to the ways of her household, and eateth not the bread of idleness. Her children arise up, and call her blessed; her husband also, and he praiseth her. Give her of the fruit of her hands; and let her own works praise her in the gates."

Mrs. Brandriff was a consecrated, consistent, patient Christian. She was a goodly type of the "elect lady" to whom St. John addressed his second epistle.

She united with the Methodist Episcopal Church at about the time of her marriage, and died in its fellowship. Though possessed of a deep, mature Christian experience, she was modest and unassuming in her profession. As a minister's wife she was always popular with the people, and very effective in supplementing the efforts of her husband. Her home was ever open to the ministers of her Church, and she was always happy when entertaining them. Many a weary itinerant found rest and refreshing within her hospitable home.

The closing years of Mrs. Brandriff's life were clouded with mental feebleness. Eighteen years ago she fell down a flight of stairs, sustaining injuries from which she never fully recovered. Soon after this accident occurred she began to suffer loss of memory, and then gradually other mental faculties gave way, until her mind was quite destroyed.

For eight or nine years she had been incapable of caring for either herself or her family, during which time she had been tenderly watched over by her husband and daughters; her daughter Augusta having devoted herself unceasingly to her care. Her last sickness, being pneumonia, was of brief duration. The clouds that obscured her mental sky prevented any last words of testimony. But none were needed, as her life was a continuous testimony.

Those clouds of mental obscuration are now dissipated forever. How pleasant the thought that the shadows are lifted, and that now she sees as she is seen, and knows as she is known! Death to Mother Brandriff was not an enemy, but a friend.

The lines of Longfellow seem appropriate here:

"'T was at thy door, O friend! and not at mine,
The angel with the amaranthine wreath,
Pausing, descended, and with voice divine,
Whispered a word that hath a sound of death.

Then fell upon the house a sudden gloom;
A shadow upon those features fair and thin;
And softly from that hushed and darkened room,
Two angels issued, where but one went in."

A. B. LEONARD.

MRS. MARY C. B. CALLENDER.

MARY CURTIS BONHAM CALLENDER was born near Pittsburg, Pa., May 29, 1808. In early life she was converted and joined the Church. This act was deliberate, and in her own mind and heart comprehended the whole of her future life. Hence, in view of all the sacrifices and personal deprivations incident to an itinerant life sixty years ago, she cheerfully united her destiny with Rev. Nathaniel Callender, of the Pittsburg Conference, October 5, 1827, the matrimonial vow being sealed and the benediction given by the Rev. Zarah H. Coston, of the same conference. Thenceforward, amid the varied duties devolving upon her in the several fields of itinerant labor occupied by her husband during fifty-one years, she manifested unswerving integrity to duty, patiently suffering the ills of life, quenchless zeal in labor for the salvation of souls, a pure, exemplary life, and an increasing love for the Savior and the interests of his cause. A proper estimate of her character and labors can not be formed, except by briefly glancing at the extended territory through which she traveled with her husband. The first few years of her itinerant life were spent in the English work in Western Pennsylvania. But when the apostle of German Methodism in this country, Rev. Dr. Nast, sounded his bugle blast, calling for ministers to preach the Gospel to the Germans, one of the first that responded to the call was Rev. N. Callender, after qualifying himself by the acquisition of the German language. Mrs. Callender, baptized anew with the Holy Ghost, and with a self-denying zeal truly apostolic, entered with her husband upon the work of American-German evangelization. For a number of years she labored in the fields assigned her husband in Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan, and other parts of the country. Advancing years and increasing infirmity compelled the faithful toilers to retire from the German and re-enter the English work in the Cincinnati Conference. During the Rebellion her husband was appointed chaplain at Camp Dennison, and thus she had an opportunity to display her patriotic benevolence by helping him, and in many ways contributing to the relief and comfort of the "Boys in Blue." The years of superannuation, which subsequently followed were spent in quiet contentment, until February 6, 1876, when the cup of her sorrow was filled by the death of her husband. That great loss and painful bereavement were borne with calm resignation to the divine will until she, too, "fell asleep in Jesus" on her seventy-ninth birthday, May 29, 1887, at the residence of Mrs. P. H. Bonham, near La Grange, Oldham County, Ky. WILLIAM HERR.

MRS. FRANCES ANN KALBFUS.

FRANCES ANN PATTERSON, the beloved wife of Rev. Charles H. Kalbfus, of the Cincinnati Conference, was born in Frederick, Md., December 26, 1834. In Camden, Preble County, O., she died, in great peace, Sabbath, September 4, 1887, aged fifty-two years, eight months, and eight days.

At the early age of twelve she was sorely afflicted by the loss of her affectionate mother. Being the oldest child, and the only daughter, she took charge of the family, consisting of her father and four brothers. She was both mother and sister to her brothers, remaining with them until they were able to care for themselves, never ceasing in her thought and love for them.

At the age of fourteen she was converted, at once uniting with the Methodist Episcopal Church in Springfield, Hampshire County, Va. Both in the Sunday-school and Church she was a faithful teacher and worker.

In Maryland, February 23, 1864, she was married to her now sadly bereaved husband. In 1869 she accompanied him to Ohio. In 1870 she began the career of an itinerant's wife. Sister Kalbfus was a wise counselor, an earnest, hopeful, patient laborer. Her Christian life was exemplary; and thus to her companion in his arduous work she was a helpmeet indeed.

For seventeen years her thought and life were given to the Church. Hosts of friends in all the charges her husband filled attest her wisdom, her faithfulness, and her sweet, gentle spirit. The law of kindness was in her heart. Her life beamed with genuine goodness. She loved and read her Bible. Its truths were to her "sweeter than honey and the honey-comb." Strong faith and daily prayer gave to her piety unusual beauty and stability. To her consistent, real godliness is in large degree owing the salvation of her four children, who are members of the Church, loving and serving their mother's God.

For ten years she was almost entirely deprived of hearing. Music and song, preaching and exhortation, and conversation, were alike unheard. Yet all her religious duties were faithfully performed, and she held constant and sweet communion with her precious Savior. Two months ago she followed her father to his last rest. Her anxiety during his illness and her sense of loss in his death seemed almost too much for her to bear. She returned from his funeral weak and trembling. Day by day, thereafter, she drooped, until the end came.

When her husband was reluctant to leave her to attend to his pastoral work, she would cheer him and prompt him to his duties. On Sabbath he said to her, "I don't like to leave you." With a sweet smile she said: "Go; I am as calm and happy as I can be." At another time he asked her: "Is the Lord with you?" She replied: "O, yes! all the time. That is the reason I am so patient. My will is the will of my Lord." The twenty-third Psalm was especially a favorite one with her. Only a few moments before her death, and while suffering most intensely, she repeated the second verse and a part of the third verse: "He maketh me to lie down in green pastures. He leadeth me beside the still waters. He restoreth my soul."

Thus our sister, having peacefully and hopefully closed her beautiful earthly life, was led by "the Good Shepherd" into the greener pastures beyond the swelling flood. Our loss is her eternal gain.

On the last day of the late session of the Cincinnati Conference the tidings of her death were announced. By appointment, T. H. Pearne was appointed to prepare and submit a suitable minute for action by the body, and also a memoir for publication in the current Minutes. By a rising vote, the Conference expressed its profound sympathy with our bereaved brother. "Precious in the sight of the Lord is the death of his saints."

THOMAS H. PEARNE.

MRS. SARAH L. KAUFFMAN.

MRS. SARAH L. KAUFFMAN, wife of Rev. M. Kauffman, of Cincinnati Conference, died in Springfield, O., of lung disease, on Sunday, September 4, 1887, being in her fifty-seventh year. She was a native of Ireland, and came in very early life to America, living in Lockland, O., until her marriage to M. Kauffman in 1852. She was converted and united with the Methodist Episcopal Church in Lockland, under the ministry of Rev. W. J. Quarry, in 1850. Mrs. Kauffman was a good type of Christian womanhood; intelligent, consistent, clear in Spiritual experience, and well defined in convictions of Christian duty. In domestic life she was a model; in society, easy and graceful; in Church work, devoted and influential.

She served the Church as an itinerant's wife, in all its cares and responsibilities, with great fidelity for thirty-five years. Her record is on high. Some three years since, her husband retiring from the active ministry, she settled in Springfield, O., and became a member of St. Paul charge. The death of Mrs. Kauffman came unexpectedly soon, but she calmly testified of her readiness to depart and to be with the Lord. She died in the faith of Jesus, and her works follow her. Husband, daughter, and son feel deeply their bereavement, but they are greatly sustained and comforted concerning their sainted one.
